MR. NASBY'S DREAM.

A Prophetic Vision.

CONFEDRIT X ROADS,
(Wich is in the State uv Kentucky,)
Joon 22, 1872.

I don't know wat is the matter with me; but uv late I dream more reglarly and more feroshusly than I ever did in my life. I hev hed a sucesshun uv nitemares ever sence I gave in my adhesion to Greeley, some uv wich wuz stupenjusly friteful. I go to bed with Greeley on my mind, and dream dreams so horrible that I awake with cold sweats onto me, and shivrin ez tho I hed the agur. Nite afore last Greeley appeared to me with hoofs, horns and a tail. He perched hisself on my stumick, squattin like a hidjus toad, and puttin on his spectacles, deliberately read me, from an old copy of the Triboon, six yards uv his own editorials on the slavery question. He finally sailed off thro the air, shrekin "Lost! Lost!" Whether he referred to me or hisself ez "Lost," I reely don't know. Ef he felt ez mean in my company ez I did in hizzen, the remark would embrace both uv us.

Last nite I had another friteful vision. We hev a family in the village wich don't live in harmony. The husband got intoxicated some years ago, and knowin that it isn't the gettin drunk that hurts a man, but gettin sober, hez dodged that trouble by stayin drunk. His principal amoosement is whallin his wife. The novelty of this bevin worn off, yesterday mornin he gave her a couple uv ounces of arsenic. Vaulting ambishen o'erleaped herself—his excessive liberality defeated his purpus. The dose wuz too big—it sickened her—she vomited and lived, and whaled him within an inch uv his life. I was at the house, and late in the evenin left, stoppin at Deekin Pogram's where we took a ginooine Kentucky tea, which consisted principally uv korn whisky and cold biled pork. From thence I went home and retired, with my head full uv the pison, and Greeley mixed in about ekal proposhens. Fallen asleep, I dreamed.

Methawt I wuz in a bildin, where, I coodent make out. Stretched out onto a couch and kivered with a flag wus the body uv an enormous giant—the most huge and comprehensive giant I had ever seen, even in dreems. His legs wuz like pilars, his arms wuz like beams, and his hands was spread out like the map uv our wunst happy but now opprest country. He seemed to be in the last stages uv a fearful sickness. He hed bin, in his day, a giant uv immense strength, and wuz even in his ilness ez handsome a human bein ez I ever sot eyes onto. But it wuz evident that he wuz goin fast. He drawd his breath painfully, and from ugly wounds on his body blood oozed slowly but depletinly.

"Who is he?" I asked uv the Goddess uv Liberty, which sot at his head in deep mournin and weepin violently.

"That is Republikinism," she answered, "the only actooal, ginuine friend I ever had—the only one who reely stood by me. But they are killin him. That gash in his back Chase gave him; that stab in the side wuz inflicted by Randall; the itch wich so irritates him he caught from the Blairs, and—good Heaven! here comes another squad uv his enemies!"

I looked, and lo! Boss Tweed, Hoffman, Seymour, Hendriks, and a dozen uv my pertikeler friends were comin in. They had masks on their faces, made uv Noo York Triboons, but I knowed em for all that. Hoffman seezed the head uv the prostrate giant, while Tweed poured down his throat a nauseous floold from a jug marked "Cincinnati," fairly forcin it down him. The victim shuddered ez he swallered it, ez tho it wuz his last and final shudder.

"Yoo've killed him!" shrieked the Goddess.

"We bleeve w hev, madam," shouted the fellows in korus, pullin off their masks, "and you'll foller him within a yeer."

"Kill her now!" yelled one uv 'em, who wuz evidently from Gregory, "she ain't got her champion to save her this time."

And they seezed her and gagged and bound her, with friteful yells.

And in their joy they execooted a most demoniac war dance about the corpse, in wich I jined, with an ajility I didn't know I was possessed. But jist ez our exhultaten wuz at its highest, the corpse gave a fearful gasp—a convulshen uv ten hoss power. He riz up from the couch, assoomed a sittin position, his face uv a deethly paleness, and with a retch that shook the buildin, vomited ez I never saw a human being vomit.

"Good Heavens!" shrecked Tweed; "we've given him too much uv the pizen and it's actin ez an emetic."

The sick man gave heave after heave, and in the flood uv bile wich he ejecid I saw Greeley, Gratz Brown, Schurz, Cox and a score uv sich. A very gentle heave landed Schurz and Gratz Brown on the floor; a little bigger one threw out Fenton, and a gigantic one, which convulsed the sufferer from center to circumference, hissed out Greeley. But, once over, it wuz a tremenjus relief to the sick individooal. Immejitly a great change come over him. The moment they wuz off his stumick the palenis disappeared—a healthy color came to his cheeks and his weaknis all left him. Glarin about furiously, he put one foot on Greeley and Brown and their mizarable companions, ez a man crushes beetles, with the other he kicked the jug out uv the winder, wich jug wuz followed by Tweed and his friends, who went through the same apertoor, propelled by the same motive power. He cut the bonds off the goddess, tore off her mournin, and wuz in the act uv embracin uv her when I awoke.

I lay for hours cogitatin over this dream. Wuz it prophecy or biled pork?—That's the conundrum. Is it a warnin uv judgment to come, or is it a disordered stumick? Hev we dosed the Republikin party too freeley with Cincinnati, and hez wat we fondly hoped wood be pizen enuff to kill our great enemy, goin to be emetic wich will rid him uv the disturbin humors wich wuz a destroyin uv him, and make him stronger than ever?

It troubled me so that I coodent sleep. I tossed about in the most restless and frantic manner, and cood only indooce the gentle goddess to tetch my eyelids after four solid drinks from a jug which I keep in my room, wich isn't marked "Cincinnati" by no means. Heaven grant that my dream is simple a baseless fabric.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY,
(wich wuz Postmaster.)

Prospects of Victory.

[From Senator Morton's speech.]

The Republican party will go forward as it has done before; we have our candidates in the field; our principles are inscribed upon our banners; they are side by side with our victories, civil and military, for the last ten years; the brightest political record in this or any other country; and, gentlemen, we shall triumph. [Applause.] I have no doubt of it. [Great applause.] I believe we are destined to obtain a greater Republican triumph than we have yet had; our policy conceded, our principles not now denied; our enemies compelled to sail under false colors, and the prosperity of the nation speaking in thunder tones for us in every State of the Union, we have never had such prospects for victory. It makes no difference to us whether the Democratic party shall sail under its old colors or under false colors, the people understand that after all this fight is substantially between the Republican party and the old Democratic party. It is between Democratic principles and Republican principles, but there is this change from what has taken place in its past—two, four, eight years ago the Democratic party went to battle under their own colors, professing their own principles. Now they dare not do it. I therefore exhort patriotic men of all parties to stand fast by the Republican cause. If you are a business man you cannot afford to have this policy changed; if you are a laboring man you cannot afford to have this policy changed. You want this country to go on substantially as it is now going. The people understand their own interests, and I believe they will stand by Gen. Grant. [Immense applause.]

How Value is the Result of Labor.

A mass of iron-ore, worthless at the mine, may be worth a few cents after taking it out, a few dimes after carrying it to the furnace, a dollar after being converted into pig-iron, and five dollars after being puddled into wrought-iron; when worked into horse-shoes, it is worth ten dollars; made into pen-knife blades, it is worth three hundred dollars; made into needles, it is worth three thousand dollars; and made into balance springs for watches, two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. And so it is with everything; all values are the result of labor. Even when a town or city lot raises in value, it is the result of the labor of those who improve the neighboring land, by which the owner of the lot is the gainer.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY.

The Erie Railway Troubles.

CHARGES AGAINST JAY GOULD.

NEW YORK, July 2, 1872.

CHARGES AGAINST GOULD.

The complaint in the suit brought in the name of the Erie Railroad against Jay Gould has been served on the defendant. It recites numerous alleged breaches of trust and violations of law, from the time of the election of Gould in October, 1867, to the date of the change in the management. Gould is charged with being the cause of the over-issue of the capital stock of the road, the election of a fraudulent Board of Directors, the unlawful issue of ten millions of bonds, which he appropriated to himself and his confederates. The complaint adverts to the injury to the road from Gould's flight to the State of New Jersey, and of his expenditure of a million of dollars to extricate himself from his embarrassments; his frauds in the other issue of fraudulent bonds amount to thirty-eight millions of dollars. The unlawful payment of enormous claims to Vanderbilt and others; also the appropriation to his own use of property of the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad, and various other transactions had with the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad, and the United States Government for the transportation of freight, and for all of which damages are claimed in the sum of ten millions of dollars. Gould has twenty days in which to answer. It is believed the effect of this suit will be to thwart any schemes for the reinstatement of Gould at the election on the 9th of July.

TRIAL OF STOKES.

Stokes' trial to-day was attended by a great crowd. As expected by Stokes, Josie Mansfield will be put on trial.

Dr. John P. White, surgeon, testified to being present and participating in the probing of Fisk's wounds; was also present at the post mortem examination. Witness believes the cause of Fisk's death was a shock to his physical and mental system, and in such a case as Fisk's he (White) would not have used chloroform.

Dr. White, on cross-examination, testified that Fisk at 9 P. M. talked rationally, jocosely saying his pain was like the "green apple belly-ache." At four o'clock next morning, his iris were contracted from opium, ten drops of which were given him the evening previous. At eight o'clock next morning Fisk was unconscious and virtually dying. Witness did not think that a break or incision in the smaller intestines was necessarily fatal. He thought the correct treatment of patients wounded like Col. Fisk was quietness, milk punch, and beef tea. There was no probing of Fisk's wound in his presence which would have affected the duration of Fisk's life.

Dr. Louis A. Layre was the next witness. He testified that he found Fisk at nine o'clock in bed, with great pallor, which satisfied witness that Fisk would die from the great shock. There was paralysis of the whole surface of the body. He was satisfied he could not recover. Fisk never rallied from the injury by wound to the sympathetic nerves. The wound was mortal from the beginning, which was his reason for giving opium. To a question, "Could the amount of opium more or less have had any effect on the final result?" witness answered, "Oh, no; wounded as he was, he would have died anyhow."

After the recess George H. Smith, Secretary of the Narragansett Trotting Association, who was about to leave the city, was allowed to testify on behalf of the defense, but the evidence proved to have no bearing on the case.

The medical testimony was then resumed. Dr. Steele testified that he was present when Dr. Wood was examining the wound. Col. Fisk rallied and seemed to improve a short time after that. The cause of death was shock from a pistol ball.

Without reference to the probing or administration of opiates, Dr. Tripler, who was also present at the examination, deposed that two ounces of brandy in water was given to the dying man. Death was the result of shock, and was accelerated by peritonitis. From the very beginning, his opinion was that Fisk would die.

Both witnesses were cross-examined at great length, but nothing material was elicited.

Adjourned.

CUBAN FILIBUSTERS GIVE TO GRIEF.

The editor of the Cronista, a Spanish newspaper here, received the following dispatch: "The steamer Fannie has been burned, all her cargo captured, Peralto and several others killed, and the rest taken prisoners."

THE HEATED TERM.

Thirty-seven cases of sun-stroke were reported by the police yesterday, seven of which proved fatal. The thermometer at eight o'clock this morning opened at ninety in the shade.

FIRE.

The sash factory of William A. Jenkins, and other property on Canal street, was burned to-day. Loss $15,000; insured. Several firemen were prostrated by the heat.

OBSCENE LITERATURE.

The jury in the case of John H. Meeker, charged with uttering obscene photographs and books, were unable to agree, and were discharged.

STEAMER SUNK.

The steamer Escort, a passenger boat between this city and Sag Harbor, was sunk this morning by a collision with a barge. No lives were lost.

DANGEROUSLY ILL.

Silas B. Dutcher, United States Supervisor of Internal Revenue in Brooklyn, has been dangerously ill of congestion of the brain, but is better.

THE EIGHT HOUR QUESTION.

The strikers appear to have given up all idea of gaining their eight hour law.

GREELEY GONE TO BOSTON.

Horace Greeley left for Boston by the steamer Providence this afternoon.

CINCINNATI.

The Late Kissing and Cutting Affair—Sudden Deaths.

CINCINNATI, July 2.—Thos. L. Bond, who made a murderous attack on Rev. J. J. Thompson, was brought before the police court this morning, Mr. Thompson having recovered so far as to appear. In the introduction of the case Prosecuting Attorney Campbell said they were prepared to prove that for the prisoner to have been able to see any improper conduct in the dining room through the door ajar, as had been stated by the prisoner, the shutter of the only front window in the room must have been open, which would have revealed everything to persons on the street.

Mr. Thompson made a brief statement, in which he said he did not know who struck him, and in reply to a question from the Court, said there had nothing improper occurred between Mrs. Shingledecker and himself.

The defense wanted an examination, and in default of $300 bail, Bond was committed to jail. Bond has recently written a letter to Thompson, asking for an interview, that would enable him to make amends for what he has done. Everything combines to confirm the belief entertained by Thompson's friends from the first that there were no grounds whatever for the suspicious that provoked the terrible assault.

SUDDEN DEATHS.

James Warnock, of the law firm of Lincoln, Smith and Warnock, while conversing with one of his partners in their office this afternoon, was suddenly taken ill, and fell dead in four minutes.

The day has been prolific in accidents and sudden deaths. One of the most shocking was that of a woman falling from a fifth story window, breaking her neck in the fall.

MILWAUKEE.

Excitement Among Printers—The Union Ousted.

MILWAUKEE, July 2.—The printers' strike created greater excitement than any event since the Chicago fire. The newspapers are regularly issued, but show a lean appearance. They have ousted the Union completely. The News says Milwaukee newspapers will now take the place of "rat" offices and adopt the Union nick-name. They will pay just as high, or higher, wages, will be governed by rules framed as strictly in the interests of the journeymen printers, and will manage as harmoniously and generously as any Union offices are managed; but they will be moved far from the despotism and terrorism under which they have heretofore been held. They will be so governed and conducted that the term "rat" office will not be a reproach or a stigma, but it shall indicate that within them and in the system which they represent, neither employers nor employes are the slaves of a petty, irresponsible and fanatical tyranny. They will be conducted on sound, generous and benign business principles, and under the ever honorable motto of "Live and let live."

BOSTON.

The Musical Jubilee.

BOSTON, July 2.—The cool weather rendered the attendance on the concert this afternoon somewhat less a task than on the previous day, and the audience was proportionately more numerous and enthusiastic as their favorite bands appeared in succession. The Irish Band, which improved in its execution over yesterday's effort, was kept on the stage more than half an hour. Madame Peschka Leutner sang an aria from "Martha," with a military band accompaniment, and for an encore sang the "Star Spangled Banner" with magnificent effect. Strauss, the Cornet Quartette and the French Band, which latter gave a selection from "Robert Le Diable," were received with marked demonstrations and encored, the cornets responding with "When the Swallows Homeward Fly." Madame Peschka Leutner received an elegant floral tribute from Newport.

Another concert was given by the French Band to-night.

SPORTING.

The Turf.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 2.—The attendance at the races to-day was immense. The first race, for the Hopeful stakes, half a mile dash, for two-year-olds, was won by Morris' Mollie Jackson. Tom Bowling second, and Asteroid third. Time —53¼ seconds.

The second race was for a purse of six hundred dollars, mile heats, all ages, the first horse to receive four hundred and fifty dollars, the second one hundred dollars, and the third fifty dollars. Seven horses were entered—John Harper's Littleton, F. M. Hall's John Merryman, D. McDaniel's Abdel Koree, D. Swigert's Shylock, J. B. and A. Davis' Piedmont, Coffin & Lawrence's Lochiel, and John McCormack's Belle Aiken. The following is the summary: Littleton, 3, 1, 1; Lochiel, 1, 2, 2; Abdel Koree, 2, 3, drawn. Time, 1:45, 1:45, 1:49.

The great race of the day was for the Monmouth cup, a dash of two and a half miles, which had twelve nominations of fifty dollars each, play or pay, added to a purse of $1,500, the second to receive $300, and the third $150. Out of the stakes at the sale of pools Bassett brought $1,800 and Longfellow $1,000. Subsequently Bassett brought $2,000 and Longfellow $1,200. The excitement was at fever heat. Longfellow was the winner by twenty lengths; time 4:34.

But little difficulty was experienced in effecting a start, and the horses got away together, Bassett having the inside of the track. For the first half mile they ran head to head, the only advantage, if any, being in favor of Bassett. As the horses, warming into their stride, passed the grand stand, the excitement rose to fever pitch. The first mile and a half found their position unchanged, but the backers of Bassett evidently had misgivings, as their favorite was doing his best, while it seemed that Longfellow was still being held in by his rider. Their fears were confirmed when the horses swept past the grand stand the second time. Longfellow's rider gave the head to his horse, who gallantly responded, and quickly placed two lengths between himself and Bassett.

The scene was indescribable. Men threw their hats in the air and cheered wildly, while the ladies waved their handkerchiefs and bet countless pairs of gloves on John Harper's steed. From this moment it was evident that all was up with Bassett, and although his rider used the whip and spur without stint, it was of no avail. Every movement of Longfellow increased his lead, and landed an easy winner in 4:34, or, as some of the judges claim, in 4:33. Bassett was beaten over a dozen lengths.

The enthusiasm of the Western men was unbounded. They crowded around John Harper, cheering and congratulating the old man, who also seemed laboring under great excitement. Immense sums were lost on the race by New Yorkers. John Morrissey is among the heavy losers. The day's races are acknowledged to be the finest that have ever been conducted on the American turf.

TOLEDO, July 2.—There was a fair attendance at the Quickstep Park, with a standing intense heat. The first race was for horses that had never beaten three minutes, a purse of $2,000, $1,000 to the first, $500 to the second, $300 to the third, and $200 to the fourth. Ten entries were made and seven started. It was won by Ella Wilson, of Rushville, Indiana, in three straight heats; time: 2:35¾, 2:31¾, 2:32; Jenny, of Baltimore, second; Harry R., of Detroit, third; Vanity Fair, of Toledo, fourth.

The second race was for horses that had never beaten 2:34, a purse of $2,000, divided the same as the first race; fourteen entries; seven started. This was won by Lady Kate, of Detroit, in three straight heats; time: 2:36¾, 2:35, 2:38¾; Fred, of New York, second; Indiana, of Cincinnati, third; Wade Hampton, of Baltimore, fourth.

BASE BALL.

GUELPH, CANADA, July 2.—Base ball: Baltimore 9; Maple Leaf, of this city, 10.

BOSTON, July 2.—Base Ball: Bostons 9; Forest City, Cleveland, Ohio, 8.

CHICAGO.

A Conscientious Criminal.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Late last night a young German, giving his name as Otto Beltzieche, came up to a policeman and indicated a desire to be arrested. As he could not speak English, an interpreter was found, when Beltzieche stated that he was a native of Magdeburg, Germany, and that he had committed a robbery there to the amount of between six and seven thousand dollars, which sum he brought to this country, but had returned all but about five hundred dollars. He expressed a desire to be taken back to Germany. He is now in the station.

SIR ROUNDEL PALMER.

LONDON, July 2.—Sir Roundel Palmer assumed his seat in the House of Commons yesterday morning.

A FRIENDLY SPEECH.

Russell Gurney addressed his constituents in Southampton last night. He spoke warmly of the Americans, who, he said, were desirous of preserving friendly relations with England. He thought an interchange of visits between the two countries was advisable. He cared not whether England was required by the arbitrators at Geneva to pay two or three millions more or less, but it was necessary that both nations should feel that justice had been done, and their disputes honorably settled.

AFRICA.

DR. LIVINGSTONE FOUND.

NEW YORK, July 2.—A Herald special from London says letters have been received here from Stanley, the Livingstone explorer, of which the following is a summary: From Unyanyheebe, where Stanley arrived September last, he intended advancing to Ujiji, but Mirambo, King of Ujowa, declared that no caravan should pass Ujiji except over his body. The Arabs declared war, and anticipated a victory. I gave assistance the first day, in concert with the Arabs, and attacked two villages, and captured, killed or drove away the inhabitants. The third day the Arabs were ambushed, and routed with terrific slaughter. On the fourth day there was a general desertion of Arabs. My own men, after considerable difficulty, reached the suburbs of Ujiji. I entered, firing guns and carrying the American flag. The astonished natives flocked out in crowds, with deafening shouts. I noticed in the centre group of Arabs, strongly contrasting with their sunburnt faces, a hale-looking, gray-bearded white man, wearing a naval cap with gold band, and red woolen shirt, preserving a demeanor of coolness before the Arabs. I inquired, Dr. Livingstone, I presume? He smilingly answered, Yes. He informed me that he started in March, 1866, with twelve Sepoys, nine Johanna men and seven liberated slaves, and traveled up the banks of the Rohruma. His men got frightened and deserted and reported Livingstone dead, as an excuse for their desertion. He crossed the Chambezi and found it not the Portuguese Zambezi, but a wholly separate river. He found it was called farther on Lualaba. He explored it seven hundred miles, and found that Chambezi is doubtless the source of the Nile, and that the length of the Nile is two thousand six hundred miles. It is not supplied by Tanganyaka. He reached within one hundred and eighty miles of the explored ground, when he was obliged to return to Ujiji, destitute. He here met me. We both left here on the 16th of October, and arrived at Nuyanamba at the end of November. We spent twenty-eight days in exploring the district together. Livingstone left Unyanyembe to explore the north of Tanganyika Lake and the remaining one hundred and eighty miles of the Hulaba river. This will occupy the next two years.

STEAMER FANNIE BURNED.

HAVANA, July 1.—A telegram from Colonel Valera, dated Herradura, June 25th, twenty-two leagues from Guantaimo, says: The Fannie has landed a valuable cargo of cargo of arms and ammunition. She got aground and is now burning within sight. The expedition consisted of fifty-six men, and was commanded by Peralto. The expeditionists landed and buried the cargo. Valero attacked the filibusters, killing Peralto and capturing their flag, important correspondence for Cespedes and five prisoners—two officers and three privates. Guided by the prisoners, Valera discovered the buried cargo, and secured it in good condition. Valera is pursuing the filibusters, and troops have been ordered to the jurisdiction to cut off the remainder of the party. It is supposed in Havana that part of the Fannie's cargo was transhipped into two sloops and landed on the north coast of the island. The fate of the Fannie's crew is unknown, but it is presumed they joined the filibusters. It is asserted, however, that they took to their boats and went to Jamaica.

A telegraphic dispatch received to-day announces that sixteen more of the expeditionists have been captured and shot, and that two cannon, one hundred and sixty rifles, over two hundred cases of cartridges and many barrels of powder have been unearthed, and that the discoveries and pursuit of the expeditionists is still going on.

CUBAN PRIVATEER.

The captain of the brig Thomas Owen confirms the report of his meeting a Cuban privateer pioneer at sea. He says she is a schooner of about two hundred tons burden, appears to be a fast sailer, and mounts four guns, two sixty-fours and two thirty-twos. The Spanish vessels are taking proper precautions against her. All the available men-of-war have been ordered to cruise in search of her.

CUBANS SURRENDERED.

Five armed Cubans of the Cabaniguan party have surrendered. It is reported that the band has dissolved, and that the remaining members have gone home in order to surrender.

THE GERMAN BOMBARDMENT.

KINGSTON, JAM., June 26.—President Saget, of Hayti, has issued a proclamation denouncing as an outrage the action of the German fleet in enforcing the demands of German merchants.

At a conference of foreign ambassadors, the American Minister commented with great severity on the indifference of Hayti to her international obligations, and declared that the present crisis was the natural consequence of such indifference. He urged the President to be careful not to compromise Hayti by this dangerous policy, otherwise he would open doors by which the American and European Governments might desire to enter. He also said that the Germans acted with justice in regard to the demands of their merchants.

The French Minister pronounced the proceedings an act of barbarity.

The British Minister feelingly replied, "My opinion is against you, and I uphold the action of the Germans."

White & Hartman, Port au Prince merchants, advanced the money for the indemnity, which the Government was compelled to pay.

The Haytian Cabinet rejected a motion made by the Minister of Foreign Affairs to open fire on the German steamers. The ministry is exceedingly unpopular.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

THE STEAMER EDGAR STUART.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Advices from Panama on the 10th of June state that the steamer Edgar Stuart is still at Aspinwall in charge of the United States Vice Consul, Dill, who will hold the vessel until he receives instructions from Washington. Some trouble had been occasioned by some Cubans on board the Stuart, who claim to have been abused by Capt. Pennell. They made complaints against the Captain to the local authorities at Colombia, and the latter offered to put a guard on board, but Capt. Pennell declined the Columbian guard, as Capt. Davis, of the United States frigate, at the request of Vice-Consul Dill, had placed an American guard on the Stuart to protect the Captain and vessel from threatened violence on the part of the Cubans.

ASPINWALL, June 22.—Captain Pennell, of the steamer Edgar Stuart, has, on persuasion of President Corsico, of his own accord, submitted to formal arrest for twenty-four hours, in order to vindicate the dignity of the State authorities whose summons he has heretofore refused to obey. His safety and honorable release were guaranteed by the President.

MINISTERIAL CHANGES.

TORONTO, July 2.—The Mail, the Government organ in this city, says: "We have reason to believe that several important changes will at once be made in the disposition of officers at Ottawa, the necessity therefor being caused by the appointment of Hon. Alex. Morris, Minister of Inland Revenue, to be Chief Justice of Manitoba. John O'Conner, M. P. for Essex, will be sworn in as the successor of Morris in the Cabinet, that gentleman's portfolio, however, being taken by Dr. Tupper, and Mr. O'Conner taking the duties of President of the Council. Mr. O'Conner accepts the office under Sir John A. McDonald as a representative Catholic, and his name will be associated with those of Sir Dominick Daly, Mr. Drummond, Mr. Allyn, Mr. D'Arcy McGee and Sir Edward Kenney, all of whom have successively occupied seats in the same cabinet with the present Premier of the Dominion."

BY MAIL.

THE Latter-Day Saints who go as missionaries to Denmark have the hardest kind of time of it. The Government has issued an order that all Mormon preachers shall be tied up and flogged, under the superintendence of village magistrates; and one of the Apostles has actually been treated in that harsh and uncompromising way.

THE hall in which the Geneva Court of Arbitration holds its sessions is an ordinary drawing-room, the windows looking out on a neat little garden in the very center of the city. The ante-room through which the commissioners and secretaries enter the hall of Congress is called the marriage chamber, and is regarded by sentimentalists as significant of the approach of a happy union between the two great nations.

IN a late communication to the German Anthropological Society, Herr Pausch, member of the recent polar exploring expedition, describes certain abandoned habitations of the Esquimaux situated in East Greenland. At each of seven different points they found three stone houses, some of which were evidently more than one hundred years old. These were supposed to be the winter homes of the natives, the remains of their summer abodes being indicated by stone rings. Remains of stone graves were also found from which skulls, agreeing with the Eastern Esquimaux type as described by Virchow, and exhibiting the carnivorous habit in the highest degree, were obtained. Specimens of wood-carving, bone knife handles, harpoons of bone, arrow-tips, and knife-shaped pieces of iron, were also found among the ruins.—Galaxy.

A CHANGE has come over Japan and her Mikado since the latter used to be described as sitting motionless through the day upon his throne, only seen by the high officials when he ate and watched over by the Empress in his hours of somnolence. He has come now to have an interest in other matters than his own peronal dignity: the ruler of Japan is watching with a patriarchal interest over the College of Yeddo. This school is an institution of recent growth and though owing to a lack of integrity and symmetry in its mode of instruction, the highest possible benefits have not been secured, encouraging progress has nevertheless been made under the American Superintendent, and students themselves realize that they are enjoying advantages that their predecessors never knew. At a recent commencement of this College the Mikado was in attendance, and instead of requiring a throne to sit upon, was democratic enough to use the chair of the American Superintendent, with a lady's shawl thrown over it. The students were but a very little abashed at the presence of the grand-child of the sun, and went creditably through their exercises. Several addresses were delivered by them in vigorous English, and with the little complimentary clauses in, such as our youth like to have ready when the Governor is present graduating day.

A CORRESPONDENT in China gives an interesting account of the devotion of Buddhist priests, as it was recently illustrated by one of the sacred order who came to Shanghai to raise money for a temple at Suchou. The project had started ten years ago, but after $4,000 of the $13,000 required had been collected religious interest languished, and the stones had not been added with that despatch which promised any domes pointing heavenward in some generations. Something desperate was therefore necessary, and with such desperation did this priest become equipped that he offered to allow himself to be locked in a wooden box for seven days, during which time he would remain in an upright position, without food or sleep. His consecrated ambition was gratified, and a cage provided for him, just his height, and with a bottom so nail-studded that his feet should only have sufficient space between the spikes to rest, with a couple of slight bars in front for his arms. The natives were allowed to prove the genuineness of his imprisonment by locking him in, and about thirty padlocks made him secure, only a little space at the bottom being open for the admission of air. The poor devotee endured his torture with remarkable fortitude and came out at the end of the designated time not so much the worse for wear. His pulse stood at sixty-four, and his skin though hot, was moist. After his release his cage was broken up and soon sold for enough to pay for the temple, as high as $500 being paid for a single relic.

THE City of Leghorn has had a taste of riots upon a principle thorough enough to satisfy her of their genuineness, and sufficient to kill and wound a large number of people and stop all business for a time. Different explanations of the outbreak have been given. Some attributed it to the prohibition of a meeting, called to demand the abolition of the first article of the statuto, which declares the Catholic faith to be the dominant religion, others to the unpopularity of the police and the antipathy felt for that body by the lower classes in that city. An outbreak between the soldiers and the police was the signal for the riot, in which many of the soldiers joined. The Questura or police headquarters was assailed and bombarded with stones and all the natural weapons that could be secured, and finally the building was fired, but the flames afterwards extinguished. Only after several days of proceedings of this kind and the interference of the military, who are popular with the people, was the uproar and slaughter stayed. Various differences between the New York and Italian mobs and the ways of dealing with them. In Italy the patient policy prevails, and though the troops made several bayonet charges the mob was not fired upon, as the shedding of blood would be a terrible argument in favor of republicanism in the hands of the Internationalists. In spite of the impotence of the police, whereby large districts were left without protection, not a single fight nor even altercation occurred outside from at the front.

A CORRESPONDENT writing from Cape Town, South Africa, tells of a great excitement there over a gigantic robbery. He says: "The post-office at De Beers is a stately building, as large as a sentry-box, constructed of such costly material as old pine wood, and of the magnificent design of a ship's cook-house. It looms up majestically in comparison with the famous Pig-and-Whistle opposite, where a captain in Her Majesty's Lancers is bar-man, and a late captain in Her Majesty's foot line is waiter. It will, therefore, be seen that its situation is elegant and its neighborhood aristocratic. On Thursday, the 9th of May, Ascension Day, the post for Cape Town was an exceedingly valuable one. It is difficult to tell how valuable. It is certain that it contained six pounds' weight of diamonds, and the value of this, with money-orders, bank-notes, and other currency is roughly estimated from £80,000 to £100,000. The mails were made up and heaped by a window only fastened by a bolt without the security of shutters or rods. The postmaster was absent from his office for ten minutes. As he says it was all done in ten the surmise therefore is that he was not in the building. Perhaps he had gone on a visit to his aristocratic friends over the way. At any rate during the ten minutes a pane of glass was taken out of the window, the bolt drawn back, the window opened, and the bag walked off with. That terrible fire in Chicago did not dash faster over that city, rousing all the energy and feelings of distress of the inhabitants, than did the news of the robbery at the Bush. Nearly all were directly or indirectly interested, and an amateur detective force, hundreds strong, was at once organized and commenced searching for the thief. The detectives searched and searched; the post was detained for some hours, but all in vain. Not the slightest clue had the robber left behind him, and it is questionable whether, after the long start he had, he will ever be found out. If he can only manage to get clear of letters having the diamonds in his pockets, he will be all right. The Government is being pretty considerably blasphemed on account of its handsome postal structure at De Beers, and if the thief is not captured, I conjecture that the postmaster stands a very favorable opportunity of being lynched.

THE "Orange Rum Feast," peculiar to the Society Islands, and which has recently had its annual celebration, is thus described by a correspondent: "The natives have collected in groups, reclining on mats in front of the few principal houses in the village, the cigarette is passed from one to another, and to the stranger unacquainted with their language some grave matter is being discussed, but it is not so; it is the preparations of an orange-rum feast and the Hula-Hula that holds their attention. Presently two or three Europeans, bringing large casks with them, join the assembly; in a short time ten or fifteen hogsheads are collected, and the women and the young people are detailed to gather the oranges on the morrow. These casks are taken perhaps two or three miles up the valley, until the most unfrequented spot is reached, where they are filled with the juice of the orange; holes are dug, and the casks are buried for two days, by which time the liquor is fermented and ready for use. On the third day the young people of the neighboring districts, an assembly of from eighty to one hundred males and females, proceed to the scene of the revel. It is mid-day; in a shady spot, where the tropical undergrowth has been cleared, all are seated in a ring. Here is a girl hardly thirteen years old, by her side a hoary-headed sinner of forty; next is a native man of perhaps twenty; at his right is a half-caste girl forming another portion of this circle is an American, formerly a sailor on of dollars. This is exclusive of the subsidies of Congress of public lands in the Territories, between El Paso, in Texas, and San Diego, in California.

The distance from the eastern boundary of Texas to San Diego is about 1,600 miles, or, including the Trans-Continental Road and its branches from Texarkana to Marshall, about 1,900 miles. There are no engineering difficulties of any kind to be met with; there is no practical difficulty in regard to fuel and water, and the country generally presents more facilities for the construction of a railroad than can be found on a line of equal length on the Western Continent. Comparing the different estimates of cost of this line, and comparing all the estimates with the estimated cost of all the other roads in the United States, there can be no doubt that this road can be constructed in a first-class manner and thoroughly equipped for business at a cost, as before stated, not exceeding $40,000 of bonded debt per mile. To aid in the construction of this road, the United States has made a grant of its lands in the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona and the State of California. In all not less than 15,000,000 acres, in certain sections, along the route of said road.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company during the year 1870 sold 294,000 acres of land, at an average of $4 46 per acre, $1,311,246. At a like rate per acre the Texas and Pacific Railway Company would produce $67,900,000.

Miss Stebbins Marriage.

[From the San Francisco Chronicle, June 18.]

The Rev. Horatio Stebbins, the popular preacher of the Pacific Slope, realizes by this time, the truth of the Shakespearean sentiment, "Love laughs at locksmiths." If he doesn't, it is not the fault of his charming daughter, Miss Mary Louise. About two years ago, this young lady met her fate in the person of a young man named Schroder. He was a very young man—not over 20—and earned his living by selling tickets at the Pavilion Skating Rink.

He looked out of the little window, and his eye fell upon Miss Mary. She looked in at the little ticket window, and her eyes fell upon him. Tableau—blushes, mutual starts, and finally love. An acquaintance was soon formed, and the children fairly revelled in their new-born attachment. For a short time young Schroder called on the young lady at her father's house, but finally the good doctor's mental nostrils were assailed by the odor of a long-tailed mice, and he mildly suggested that he thought the Stebbins visiting circle was already large enough without the addition of Mr. Schroder. In short he told the young lady she must no longer receive his attentions. He said she was entirely too young to think of marriage, and, besides, Mr. Schroder would not be his choice for a son-in-law.

Miss Mary then met her lover clandestinely. She would go to the skating rink daily, and wait for Schroder to get through his duties, when they would skate together for hours. They were constantly together when away from the parental eye, and had no thought outside of their own happiness.

Finally Mr. Stebbins despaired of breaking up the intimacy, except by sending the young lady away for a time. He made arrangements to place her in school in Germany, in the hope that absence would conquer the love he had so long endeavored to dispel.

She was to start for New York on the 5th of June. On the 5th she asked permission to go and see some friends and bid them good by. She went out, met Schroder, and the two went quietly over to San Leandro, got a license, and were married. Schroder brought his bride back to the city, and she returned to her father's house. Next morning she started, in company with her aunt for New York, en route for Europe. A few days after this some busybody happened to see the entry of the marriage in the San Leandro records, and hastened as fast as his legs could carry him to inform Dr. Stebbins. To say that the outraged parent was surprised and shocked hardly expresses it. He was frantic.

He went to Shroder's place of business, the London and San Francisco Bank, to interview that gentleman without a moment's delay, and there learned the truth. "Well," said the good doctor, "if that is the case, I must telegraph Miss Fisher to return."

"And what about Mary?" asked the self-imposed son-in-law. "Well, sir," said the doctor, "since she is your wife, my advice to you is to look after her. You will find her in New York," and with that he turned on his heel and left the bank.

He then telegraped Miss Fisher at New York not to sail for Europe until she heard from him, and a letter is now on the way. It is said that the letter contains a brief note to the young lady denouncing her for unfilial conduct, and informing her that henceforth she must look to her husband for protection. In short, it is said, the doctor disowns his daughter forever.

The young bride is very beautiful, has, or had, a host of friends, and will probably make young Schroder supremely happy. He, like her, is very young, but has good habits and a fair start in life. Let us hope that the good doctor's wrath will soon subside and all yet be happiness and peace between him and his children.

Mrs. Fisk and a Mistaken Crowd.

The trial of Stokes has revived the excitement which was abroad when Col. Fisk was assassinated, and though some of the demonstrations among the New York masses show how much the deceased was beloved by them for the many acts of kindness which he was always ready with in emergencies, their zeal carries them occasionally into an insult to his memory and an outrage upon his friends in their efforts to avenge him. Such a mistake, to call it by no worse name, was made the other day as Mrs. Fisk drove up to the Surrogate's office in regard to the transaction of some business connected with her late husband's estate. She was dressed in deep mourning and accompanied by a young lady, neither of whom were recognized by the crowd that swarmed about the carriage. The Stokes case being on trial a person in the crowd started the rumor that the lady was Josephine Mansfield come to testify, which was fire enough for the powder kegs standing around, and as Mrs. Fisk alighted she was hooted at and greeted with "Hello, Josie, you ought to hang on the same gallows with Stokes," and other expressions equally coarse. The shock was so great to the lady that for some minutes she was unable to walk, but finally she reached the Court House, with a vile and abusive crowd following her. She was taken into Judge Hutchinson's private room, where she fainted away and was with difficulty brought to.

A HORSE attached to a buggy ran away yesterday on Fourth avenue, and when opposite Patterson's stables collided with a post, tearing off one of the wheels. This accident did not check the flight of the animal. At the corner of Market street the buggy came in collision with a brewery wagon, and was so completely demolished that the horse pursued its course unimpeded except by some small fragments which adhered to the harness.

MR. JOSEPH GIBSON while driving along the Washington pike on Monday, sustained serious injuries, consequent upon his horse running away. While descending a hill the rubber on the wagon broke, and the vehicle ran forward upon the horse. The animal became frightened and ran off. In crossing a small bridge the wagon was hurled over the side, and horse, wagon and occupant went over into the run below. Mr. Gibson was badly hurt, but his injuries are not considered dangerous.

The Poetry of the Table.

In the first place, a starched and smoothly-ironed table-cloth,—which, if neatly folded after every meal, will look well for several days. Then flowers and ferns in flat dishes, baskets, or small vases,—or else a tiny nosegay laid upon every napkin.

The salt must be pure and smooth. The butter should be moulded into criss-crossed diamonds, shells, or globes, with the paddles made for this purpose.

A few pretty dishes will make the plainest table glow;—a small, bright-colored platter for pickles, horse-radish, or jelly; and butter-plates representing green leaves are also very attractive.

A few pennies' worth of parsley or cress, mingled with small scraps of white paper daintily clipped, will cause a plain dish to assume the air of a French entree. A platter of hash may be ornamented with an edging of toasted or fried bread cut into points; and a dish of mutton chops is much more impressive with the bones stacked as soldiers stack their guns, forming a pyramid in the center,—each bone adorned with a frill of cut paper. A few slices of lemon, mingled with sprigs of parsley and slices of hard-boiled eggs, form a pretty garnish to many dishes; and nothing could be more appetizing than beef, veal, mutton or lamb made into mince-meat, and then pressed into form in a wine-glass, then fried in pork fat, with a sprig of green placed in the top of each little cone. The basket of fruit—peaches, pears, grapes or apples, oranges and grapes—should be tastefully arranged and trimmed with leaves and flowers. The bowl of salad should be ornamented with the scarlet and orange flowers of the tropæolum,—their piquant flavor adding zest to the lettuce, with which they can be eaten.—Scribner's for July.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 44f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 113½@113⅝.

THE Congressional conferees of the XXIIId district will meet, at the Monongahela House next Monday, to nominate a candidate for Congress. The honor will probably fall upon Hon. James L. Graham.

THE New York Tribune praises the Pittsburgh Post's gradual edging towards Greeley as something "very manful;" exactly, about as "manful" as a donkey on a tread mill lashed to the performance of its assigned duty.

THE inspiring heroism of the battle cry of ex-Governor "extra Billy" Smith, at the Virginia Conservative Convention, is absolutely thrilling. Its patriotism is intense, and in point of principle soars away up into a region impenetrable to the dross of selfishness. "Give me," yelled the ex-Governor, "Jew or Gentile, dog or devil, I care not which, so we beat Grant." And then he swallowed Greeley.

THE FAITH of the World in Carl Schurz is touching. There is nothing like it in history or romance, and it is the most extraordinary novelty that has ever been thrust into politics. In its article of Monday giving up the anti-Greeley ghost, it says when Mr. Schurz has made his first speech in support of Mr. Greeley, "citizens will be better able to perceive on what grounds an honest man can vote for this confessedly improper candidate." Carl Schurz's shoulders must exceed in breadth the altitude of his legs (Nast) if he can bear this fearful load of being made responsible for the action of these "honest citizens."

YESTERDAY, at the Monongahela House, the conferees of the XXVIth Senatorial District, composed of Beaver, Butler and Washington counties, met together and elected Hon. John N. Purviance, of Butler, and T. R. Hazzard, Esq., of Washington, as delegates to the Constitutional Convention. Beaver did not present a candidate in view of the probability of the nomination to the Senate falling to Hon. J. S. Rutan, of that county. No wiser or more excellent choice could have been made than in the selection of Messrs. Purviance and Hazzard, as both are accomplished gentlemen and of broad understanding and intelligence.

A CLOSE CALCULATION demonstrates that the juvenile population and the big boys of the United States will expend $1,136,250 to-morrow on pyrotechnical salutations in honor of Independence Day. This is arrived at by adding to the importation of fire crackers from China—167,500 boxes sold in Canton at about 76 cents a box, but here at from $2.30 to $4 a box—the more expensive fire works manufactured in the United States. There are seven factories for fire works in this country, which work from the middle of December until after the fourth of July, except two New York establishments, which are operated all the year to supply the Southern trade, the chief demands of which are for Christmas and New Years.

THE ANNUAL REPORT of the Board of Police of New York city for the year ending April 5, just made to the Mayor, gives a glimpse of the dark side of life in the metropolis. The police force is composed of 2,236 men, and they arrested during the year 84,514 persons, an increase over the preceding year of 6,222. Of the arrested not quite one-third were women, and nearly two-thirds of the whole number of arrests were for intoxication and disorderly conduct. But 3,467 of the 84,000 arrested could neither read or write—a small proportion of ignorance to so great an aggregate of crime. The nationality of the prisoners is rather significant; 30,916 were natives of the United States, 38,009 of Ireland and 9,597 of Germany. The number of arrests for homicide was 63 against 34 the previous year, an alarming increase.

THE Democrats of this State seem to be in some difficulty about getting a Chairman for their State Central Committee. Mr. Wm. A. Wallace retired because he was [illegible] and on the Greeley question. Then [illegible] er, an eminently respectable [illegible] of Berks was se[illegible] hiladelphia Age says [illegible] dispo[illegible] he po[illegible] urged [illegible] Randall [illegible] the representative from t[illegible] but has not yet been a longer the captaincy of a compact and well disciplined force, but the leadership of a forlorn hope, made up from the wreck of a disorganized army, with banners furled, and every vestage of esprit de corps wanting. It is no wonder Wallace, and Clymer and Randall are cautious about risking their reputations on so desperate a venture.

THE VACANT position on the Republican State ticket, that of the third Congressman at large, will be given to Hon. Winthrop W. Ketcham, of Luzerne county, and we understand he has consented to accept it. This is a very fitting and proper selection, and will doubtless tend greatly to remove the dissatisfaction at his failure to receive the nomination for Governor, which was felt and expressed by his friends at the late State Convention. There is no better man in the State than Mr. Ketcham, nor one more competent to discharge the duties of a Congressman. He is a man of large brain and heart, a powerful advocate and an eloquent speaker. Besides this he is thoroughly honest and conscientious in every act, and in every way is one of the most prominent men of the party of whom we are proud. His name will add strength to the ticket throughout the State, will reinvigorate the friends in the central portion, and be hailed by all as a wise and proper move on the part of the State committee. Now give Allegheny county the remaining Congressman at large in the event of General Harry White's withdrawal, and we shall re-unite the party under the old banners, and sweep the State.

WE mentioned a day or two ago the fact that retail tobacco dealers, in order to sell leaf tobacco to consumers, had been compelled, through hasty legislation, to pay a license of $500, and fifty per cent. on their sales over $1,000, to the Government, whilst wholesale leaf tobacco dealers could sell by paying a nominal license of $25. The facts are as we stated them, except that part charging the supposed injustice to hasty legislation. We learn now that the $500 license fee was imposed on retail dealers wholly in order to prevent their making sales of leaf tobacco, upon which there is no tax, to consumers. They can continue to buy and sell to dealers or manufacturers the same as before, by paying the wholesale license of $25. Then the Government can trace the leaf tobacco, as full returns must be made, under oath, of all sales of that article, and to whom sold, and collect its tax on the manufactured tobacco. It was found impossible to prevent frauds in any other way, as the leaf tobacco, under the old law, could be sold to consumers direct by the retail dealers, who would manufacture it for their own consumption, and thus avoid the tax. The bill is right, and will prevent injustice, which otherwise would have resulted to honest manufacturers.

GENERAL OGLESBY, the predecessor of Palmer as Governor of Illinois, is the Republican candidate this year, and Gustav Koerner, the Liberal and Democratic. The canvass promises to be an exciting one, but as the Republicans have a reliable majority of from forty to fifty thousand in the State, there is no doubt of the result. The temperance question is involved to some extent in the contest, or rather the Democrats desire to bring it in, in order to influence the German vote, which is almost a controlling power in Illinois if thrown together. The last Legislature passed a law authorizing suits for the recovery of damages from liquor venders, but it was supported by both parties and approved by Governor Palmer, now a leader of the Liberals. This spikes the little game of the opposition, and the contest will turn on national politics. It starts out with graceful amenities that promise well and are worthy of imitation. Mr. Koerner, the Liberal-Democratic candidate, in a speech at Springfield spoke as follows of his Republican opponent:

"I am well aware of the struggle which we will all have to undergo. Gentlemen, it will be no child's play. My opponent you all know. He is a man of generous, honest, and noble character. He is well acquainted all over the State. He is now considered, perhaps, the best popular orator in the United States."

This is all true of "Dick Oglesby," as he is familiarly known in every school district in the State. His nomination was a fortunate one because it consolidates the Republican party on State issues and in this way strengthens the national ticket.

ST. LOUIS, on Saturday last, inaugurated "Forest Park" in the western part of the city. It was something to be proud of, and we do not wonder at the jubilant and enthusiastic oratory of the occasion, and willingly concede the future of St. Louis, as the great city of the interior of the continent. A noble park of nearly eight hundred acres is one of the ways to realize this future and make it a solid fact. Pittsburgh, with a sly sort of wisdom peculiar to itself, is waiting for lands to fall in price, before it undertakes an enterprise like the one so brilliantly inaugurated by St. Louis. The natural tendency in this country, and especially in the suburbs of large cities, we all know is for land to depreciate in value. Ask any of our large land owners whether they are not selling land less at this time than they did twenty years ago. The answer will surprise the avarage Councilman. Of course we will have a park one of these days,—there can be no doubt on that point. The wisdom of waiting twenty years and until the outlying wards are built up as compactly as the old wards, before making the necessary purchase, in the hope of getting a better bargain, is a shrewd bit of civic statesmanship. At any rate as our predecessors did'nt do anything for the present generation in the way of a park, why should we bother ourselves about those who are to come after us. As Sir Boyle Roche said posterity never did anything for us why should we do anything for posterity. So the best way—the shortest, sharpest and least troublesome—to meet this park question is to wait until land comes down in price to a reasonable figure. The idea of St. Louis cramping its present resources for the benefit of the stumpy-nosed infantiles that fill its cradles is a preposterously silly one. Pittsburgh will have none of it.

POPULATION OF GERMANY.

The Berlin papers publish the results of the census of Germany of the first of December last. The total population of the various States of the empire amoun[illegible] to 41,085,616, of which 20,145,713 are males and 20,898,060 females, showing an excess of 852,347 females, one of the results of war and emigration. The population of the six principal divisions of the empire is as follows:

Prussia and Lauenberg	24,693,966	Wurtemberg	1,818,484
Bavaria	4,852,402	Baden	1,461,428

The cities with a population in excess of one hundred thousand are as follows:

Breslau	208,025	Hamburg	235,365
Munich	169,612	Dresden	177,085

The only detailed reports of the census published are those relating to the kingdom of Prussia. Its population at the last census in 1867 was 23,971,337; it is now reported at 24,643,412, an increase of 2.80 per cent. The number of dwelling houses in Prussia are 2,901,094; of family households, 5,152,893; and of hotels and other places of sojourn 20,661. The females are in excess of the males in the kingdom 340,844.

In this connection, it is worth stating that the emigration from Germany to this country is so large, and is increasing so rapidly, that the landed proprietors of North Germany have become alarmed and propose to tempt the land-loving German to remain in his native land by the adoption of measures looking to the acquisition of small holdings. Meetings of land owners have recently been held to promote this policy, and the government [illegible] to give its aid, on the ground [illegible] uld obtain his own [illegible] ld not only become [illegible] but the responsibilities of proprietorship would make him a foe of the International Society. This last is an argument that is likely to appeal with peculiar force to Bismarck.

A WORN OUT SCARE-CROW.

The two Tribunes—the one in New York and the other in Chicago—abetted by a number of similarly infatuated followers are attempting to excite the animosity and prejudices of the foreign-born population against Henry Wilson, by asserting that he was once a member of the American, or Know-Nothing party. They ignore the fact that a large number of those now styled Liberal Republicans, as well as many prominent Democrats were active members in that party, which long years since ceased to exist. The issues which divided the country at that time have also been buried out of sight. No reference to them, with any view to their revival, has been made for at least sixteen years. These critics appear to forget that since the American party passed into history, a gigantic rebellion has occurred, during which one entire section of the Union was arrayed against the flag of the country. It is right and proper in their eyes to throw the mantle of amnesty and oblivion over the crimes of red-handed traitors, and welcome them to the embraces of the new party of "Reformers," but altogether improper to forget the membership in the long since dead and buried American party.

Do these papers wish to revive the spirit which once animated the followers of the American faith and belief? Do they by presenting and proscribing its members, wish to excite the old animosity and other persecution which long since died out? It must not be forgotten that the party which they now profess such hate for, once swept the Northern States, and that "the blood of martyrs is the seed of the church." In a carefully prepared article in the Philadelphia North American we find the following allusion to this recent disposition to excite afresh the spirit of the old American party and the prejudices which it gave birth to:

"As the Tribune chooses to revive the issue we ask the attention of all who ever were members of the American party to the persecution thus attempted; for if it is allowed to be successful in one case it will be followed up in others. The American party was strong enough at one time to carry nearly all the Northern States. We therefore appeal to the men who were with it at that time to say how they relish the persecution of everybody who may have been in their ranks. If these "Liberal Republicans" wish to revive the old spirit that once animated that powerful organization, they have only to push on this attempt to get up a proscription of Mr. Wilson on the ground alleged. They have already done a great deal toward reviving this spirit by their ill-advised attempts to set Carl Schurz above the President and the Republican party, to amend the Constitution to allow him to be nominated for the Presidency and Vice Presidency, and by their preposterous representations that he controlled the entire German vote.

We ask our naturalized fellow-citizens to consider whether these pretended friends are not doing them more damage than good. The foreign element in the nation is not one-sixth as great as the native, and as the preponderance of the latter constantly increases, nothing can be more perilous than to provoke it to indignant efforts at a common union in order to resist proscription of American statesmen. There is no occasion for any journal to apologize for Mr. Wilson's membership of the American party. That memorable uprising of national feeling had several distinct objects in view, which were all accomplished, and this being so, those who organized the party believed that its mission was ended, and they therefore dissolved it. Before that party was raised the national sentiment had become feeble through a long series of years, partly by the systematic and successful efforts of the slaveholding oligarchy at disintegration and State sovereignty, and partly, though in a much less degree, by the catering of demagogues to the prejudices and interests of newly-made citizens of foreign birth. The American party was the essential and indispensable forerunner of the Republican organization. It created the great nationalizing fervor which carried the Republic so triumphantly through the civil war. And the question now presented to the country in Mr. Wilson's case is, shall the men who did this for us be punished for it by proscription from public office?

One of the curious reminiscences of that old era of Americanism is the course of the present opposition candidate for the Presidency. Had he chosen to consult with the leading statesmen of the time he must have known that the aims in view were precisely what we have stated above, and that the means adopted were in their nature temporary. Every other effect to break down the formidable strength of the proslavery Democratic party had failed, but this one succeeded; and right in the midst of it Mr. Greeley deserted to the enemy. It was chiefly through his efforts that the enormous Democratic strength was built up in New York city, for he prevented the success of Americanism there, and drove most of the Americans, with Fillmore and Brooks, into the Democratic ranks, in disgust at the course of the followers of Greeley. Such a man seems to be the natural candidate of the elements he has heretofore done so much to aid by the distractions he fomented among those he pretended to serve."

After all, does it not look absurd and ridiculous for papers advocating the Liberal candidates to raise this old scare-crow cry against Henry Wilson, or any one else? No man in the whole country gave more aid and comfort to the cause of Know-Nothingism than Horace Greeley did. On the stump he hailed it as the grand scheme for Americanizing the politics of the country, and ridding the nation of human slavery. In his paper he persistently advocated its candidates, and called loudly for their election. The means to be attained through its organization justified in his reiterated opinion, the methods by which they were to be consummated. All through the campaigns of 1853, '54 and '55, Greeley was, to all intents and purposes, a Know-Nothing or American in principles. So were nearly all the present leaders of sham Democracy, and how foolish it is for these modern Reformers, Liberals, and the rag-tag and bobtail of Democracy to attempt to make capital of this worn out subject. No man of ordinary intelligence will be misled by it, and the other sort, to a man, vote the Democratic ticket straight, and ask no questions about it. But it will be none the less unfortunate for the country, if such efforts shall rebuild the dead organization, and excite again its old spirit.

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

FROM the report of the Department of Agriculture it is inferred that the yield of wheat this year will be about 220,000,000 bushels—which is about 67,000,000 bushels less than the great crop in 1869.

THE Apache Chiefs who have imitated the example of Red Cloud, are in Washington asking the Great Father for agricultural implements, seeds, horses, ammunition and arms. They seem particularly anxious for the last two articles, but in that respect it is not probable they will receive much encouragement—the trick is too obvious.

REV. EDWARD C. TOWNE, fifteen years ago, was an ardent advocate of woman suffrage, but a decade and a half of reflection has convinced him of his error, and he will lecture the coming season on "The Failure of the Woman Movement." The Reverend gentleman is one of the most cultured men in America, and it will be interesting to know by what process of reasoning he became converted.

THE number of distilleries in the country, in running order, at the close of June, was 215, with a daily capacity of 217,682 gallons—a net decrease of twenty in the number of distilleries since June 1st, and an increase of 9,860 in the supply. The increase is explained in the fact that the manufacturers are making every exertion to have a large stock on hand before August, when the new law with an additional tax of nine cents a gallon will go into effect.

THE defeat of the Atalantas in England mortified American pride—at least in boating circles—but the insulting comments of the English press were more aggravating. But now that the excitement has calmed somewhat, it appears that the Britishers have not so much to exult over after all, for it has just been shown by one English lover of fair play that the Americans made better time than the average in crack races for the last twenty-one years—they rowed over the course in one minute less than the average time.

A GIFTED child of the Muses who has been "Liberally" inspired, has contributed to the Chicago Tribune a campain roundelay," in which he calls upon all good "Liberals" to

North and South together at the river,
Clasp hands at the river,
And vote for Greeley and for Brown.
To the margin of that river,
Drag our would-be leaders down,
Where the waters whisper ever,
"Vote for Greeley and for Brown!"

'Tis a thousand pities that such an exquisitely touching and tenderly prophetic vision of the last Liberal scene, which will be witnessed next November, should be so much depreciated by that fatal oversight in the Poet Laureate—the omission of any reference to the saline properties of that stream on the margin of which they will gather to be lulled by the music of the waters that "whisper ever vote for Greeley and Brown."

"GIFT TAKING."

[From Senator Logan's reply to Sumner.]

Let us see for a moment what this gift-taking is. Is it a crime for a man to receive gifts who has accomplished great deeds for his country? If it is let us examine the history of the country for a moment. President Grant was a great chieftain. He had achieved great things for this Government. He was a great commander of armies and forces. He was victorious in all his battles. He came home from a victorious war, when States had been joined together that had before been severed, and people were united that had been divided by the war; the people of the country felt grateful to him for his achievements and what he had done for them. There was no way in which some of the wealthy men of this country believed they could show their gratitude to this great chieftain more appropriately, inasmuch as he was a man of small means, than by presenting him with that which would make him a comfortable income the rest of his life. They did it because they were actuated by generous feelings toward him, because they were loyal men, because they loved their country. Their country had been saved, their property had been saved, and they were willing to contribute to the benefit of this man. They did so. In contributing to him they contributed to many others, as was said by the Senator from Wisconsin. General Sherman and other generals that I could mention they contributed to because of their gratefulness to them for the service they had rendered the country. These contributions were made to him when he was a soldier; they were made to him when he was not President; they were given to him, and given to him with good feeling, a generous feeling, a feeling of kindness without any hesitancy on the part of the people who gave them, without the expectation of any renumeration, or any reward that would be given to them by the President of the United States.

When General Sherman and General Grant received presents, men, women, and children all over the land thanked God that some persons were able to make them presents, because of the fact that they deserved it, the people being a grateful people. Let me read in reference to some other soldiers and great men who have received presents, and why? Because of the gratefulness of their country to them:

"When the Duke of Wellington returned to England from his victorious campaigns against Napoleon, not only were honors of every sort heaped upon him by the Government, but as a substantial testimonial of national gratitude the mansion and estate of Strathfieldsaye, in Hampshire, were purchased for him by subscription at a cost of £263,000, (or $1,315,000), and presented to him as the gift of the nation.

"After a good many years of active and strenuous agitation, Mr. Richard Cobden, the founder of the British Anti-Corn Law League, and one of the ablest and purest of British statesmen, whose fame is as broad as the world, succeeded in securing the repeal of the corn laws. In gratitude for their deliverance, through his efforts, from this great burden, his friends and admirers presented Mr. Cobden with the sum of $350,000 raised by subscription, on the receipt of which he retired from his business of cotton printing.

"When General George B. McClellan was retired from the command of the army of the Potomac after the disasters inflicted upon it by his bad generalship, his wealthy Democratic friends, desirous of salving his wounded feelings with a substantial evidence of their appreciation of his inestimable success with the spade, made him a present of a furnished house in New York which cost $50,000, and a considerable amount of greenbacks besides, all raised by private subscription, and soon afterward made him the Democratic candidate for President.

"If Gen. McClellan, who had never won a battle of any consequence, and who had led our finest army to a succession of terrible defeats, was thought worthy of a substantial a recognition of his militarys services by his Democratic friends, it could hardly be expected that Republicans should show a less grateful appreciation of the services of the most successful of our generals who led our armies East and West through a long succession of splendid and decisive victories. Accordingly when General Grant had smitten down the rebel power east and west of the Alleghanies by his tremendous and unerring blows, the sum of $100,000, we believe was, raised by subscription among loyal and wealthy citizens and presented to him as a testimonial of their and the nation's gratitude; and, if we remember rightly, a house was presented to him by Philadelphians. This was in the summer of 1865, a few months after the surrender of Lee and Johnston, when General Grant had no more thought of ever being President of the United States than of being emperor of Russia. He had, to his honor be it said, returned from his conquest of the rebel South, crowned with the laurels of a hundred victories, no richer for the war which enriched so many Army contractors and commissaries than when, four years before, he had gone from his Galena tannery to offer his services to Governor Yates.

I might go on and enumerate quite a number of men, who have received gifts because of the gratitude of the people of their country for that which they had done. In fact, if we were to search the pages of ancient history for the purpose of finding proofs, as the Senator did for the purpose of finding something objectionable to apply to General Grant, we could find that those who came home victorious received triumphs. It has been from time immemorial the case that men who achieve great things in war were received triumphantly by their people, some with gifts and presents, some in one way and some in another; and yet because the custom of the ancient world followed down to the present day in the instance of President Grant, it is brought against him here as a charge to show that he has used it as a consideration by giving office to persons who were not entitled thereto, and therefore should not be again elected. Sir, you must show something more than the acquiescence in customs to turn this country against its greatest preserver among men.

Let me call the attention of the Senator from Massachusetts to the fact that on our statute-books to-day, we find the law that where naval officers capture prizes they are entitled to a division of the prizes. Why? To encourage the Navy to capture prizes and be vigilant. Even here you make presents to naval offibers by statute law, for doing what? Just for performing their duty and nothing more. But inasmuch as President Grant performed his duty without prize-money, when he came home and the people bestowed upon him that which you bestow by law on naval officers, the eloquent Senator from Massachusetts arises in his place and charges corruption. How easy it is, sir, for us to find fault with others whom the people honor, lest we may never be placed in a position to be so highly favored ourselves.

After discussing the question of gift-taking, he says that Mr. Stewart, of New York, was appointed Secretary of the Treasury, and he uses that for the purpose of showing the ignorance of President Grant. He says that President Grant appointed Mr. Stewart; he does not say it was because Mr. Stewart had made him a present, but that is the inference from his language, and at the same time he intimates the ignorance of the President to be so great that he did not know that an importing merchant could not be collector of the port of New York, or Secretary of the Treasury.

The Senator did not tell the Senate that he found and discovered this statute. It is a wonder he did not say, "I arose and objected at the time because it was in violation of the law." He did not say that, but the statute was discovered by a clerk in the Treasury Department and not by the Senator from Massachusetts, or any other Senator. Yet the Senator has achieved a great victory over President Grant in proving him to be ignorant of a statute that he knew nothing about himself.

POOR TILTON cut a rather sorry figure, lugging away from the postoffice his ten bags of Greeley documents, which Mr. Roosevelt had franked for him. Our Congressman's frank was thrown away, for the postoffice authorities refused to permit the huge swindle upon the Government to be consummated. Therefore, poor Tilton was compelled to take his trash away.—N. Y. Times.

THE New York World prints this brief but energetic epistle: "You say there will be no bolt at Baltimore in the event of Greeley's being nominated. There may not be by actual organization, but there will be in the votes of hundreds of thousands who from the head and heart are orthodox Democrats."

TRUSSES.

Every kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done.

This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the expense of the person's life.

Rupture is too serious an injury to be treaed with lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured, with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr. Keyser always has on hand.

Dr. Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6, and on Saturdays at night.

The Career of a Great Remedy.

Twenty summers have elapsed since it was briefly announced that a new vegetable tonic and alterative, bearing the name of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, had been added to the list of Preventive and Restorative medicines. The modest advertisement which invited attention to the preparation stated that it had been used with great success, in private practice, as a cure for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation and intermittent fever. It was soon discovered that the article possessed extraordinary properties. The people, of every class, tested its merits as a tonic, stimulant, corrective and restorative, and found that its effects more than fulfilled their hopes and expectations. From that time to the present its course has been upward and onward, and it stands to-day at the head of all medicines of its class, American or imported, in the magnitude of its sales and its reputation as a safe, agreeable and potent invigorant and restorative. For languor and debility, lack of appetite and gastric disturbances, so common during the summer months, it is absolutely infallible. Indigestion, bilious disorders, constipation, nervousness, periodical fevers, and all the ordinary complaints generated by a vitiated and humid atmosphere, vanish under its renovating and regulating influence. This is its record, avouched by volumes of intelligent testimony, extending over a period of a fifth of a century, and comprehending the names of thousands of well-known citizens belonging to every class and calling. In Europe it is thought a great thing to obtain the patronage of royalty for a "patent medicine," but Hostetter's Bitters has been spontaneously approved by millions of independent sovereigns, and its patent consists in their endorsement.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, July 2, 1872.

The incessant heat to-day made money matters, as well as most all other kinds of business quite dull. Some of the banks allege that they are, owing to the July settlements, closely run for money; but a large majority of the institutions report abundance for their customers, with a little to spare for any good paper offering. This tallies with the reports from other large cities, east and west, which all quote money as being almost a drug in their markets, with the prospect of but very little being needed until the crops are all harvested and ready for movement. Speculators have almost retired from the money centres as borrowers, and in many instances themselves are seeking short paper so as to keep their money employed and yield them a profit until fall, when they hope that something may turn up by which they can make a sharp corner and do a handsome thing in the way of profit. Confidence in business matters becomes more and more assured, and there is no apprehension of anything like financial trouble in the trade and commercial circles during the present year. The imports of foreign merchandise into New York last week amounted to $5,792,383.

Since our report of yesterday, we note the following dividends: Allegheny National, 6 per cent. semi-annual; Tradesmen's National, 5 per cent. semi-annual; Merchants' and Manufacturers', 5 per cent. semi-annual; Duquesne Bank, 4 per cent. semi-annual; Allegheny Bridge Co., $1,75 per share semi-annual; Federal Insurance Co., $2,90 per share semi-annual.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, July 2, 1872.

ASHES.—Common Soda Ash, 4¾@5c; Refined 5¾@6c; Nitrate Soda, 5c; Pots, 10c; Pearls, 11c.

BUTTER.—Continues dull, and, in consequence of hot weather it is coming in in bad order; prices, however, are nominally unchanged, ranging from 10 to 15 cts for common to choice.

BROOM CORN.—There have been some few small sales recently, but the market continues dull and prices are nominal at 5 to 8 cts.

BEANS.—Sales, in small lots, at $2,75 to $3,25 per bushel, as to quality.

CHEESE.—Is in good supply, and lower; we reduce our quotations half a cent per lb as follows: Dairy 10½@11; Factory, 11½@12; Goshen, 12½@13.

CANNED GOODS.—Peaches $6,50 to $7 per case; Corn $5,50 to $6,50; Tomatoes, $4,50 to $5.

CARBON OIL.—Is reported dull, but unchanged; 19½@20 cts by the car load and 2@3 cts additional for smaller lots.

CONCENTRATED LYE.—Pennsylvania is unchanged at $5,50 per case.

COUNTRY BACON.—Shoulders; 4½@5; clear sides, 6@6½; hams, 8@10; country lard, 7@8 do.

CEMENT.—Louisville Cement, $2,50 to $2,75 per bbl; Calcined Plaster, $4 to $4,50; Land Plaster, $3,25 to $3,50; Cleveland Lime, $2; Eastern Lime, $1,75.

DRIED FRUIT.—Of all kinds is very dull, and there is no prospect of an improvement this side of next winter—it is out of season.

EGGS.—Were quoted to-day at from 20 to 22 cts. It is not expected that these prices will be sustained much longer, and country shippers should make a note of this and be guided accordingly.

FLOUR.—Continues weak and rather slow, as buyers generally, in view of the fact that the tendency is still to lower prices, are buying sparingly. We continue to quote, in a jobbing way, $5 to $8,50 for spring wheat, and $8,75 to $9,25 for red winter wheat. The arrivals continue light and there is a full supply for this season of the year.

GRAIN.—The grain markets continue very dull, and until trade becomes more settled no improvement need be expected. There seems to be no inquiry whatever for wheat and there are no settled quotations; the mills are still working on stock contracted for some time ago and at prices away above those current at the present time, and they seem to be determined not to buy until they have about exhausted what wheat they have on hand and bought to arrive. The western markets continue weak and dull—seller August quoted in Chicago on Monday at $1,11@1,12. Oats dull and unsettled; sale of 2 cars in elevator at 41½c; and there was a small lot sold in the wharf at 41c; quotations may be given at 42 to 43c in round lots and 3 to 5 cts for small lots. Corn continues very quiet but unchanged; 58 to 59 on track and 60@61 from elevator. Nothing doing in rye; can not be fairly quoted above 70 to 75, and there is but little inquiry at any price.

GROCERIES.—Coffee continues active, and all the leading houses are busily engaged in filling orders made prior to the 1st inst., and prices are firm, and, as stocks are comparatively light, an advance is not improbable. Sugars are also moving pretty freely and prices are steady but unchanged. Syrups and molasses quiet.

REFINED SUGARS.—Crushed, 13¾; granulated, 13; powdered, 13¾; A, 12; B, 11⅜; Ex C, 11¾; C, 11¼; Circle C, 11¾; Chesapeake, Ex C, 11¼; Lovering, 11¼; Knights C yellow, 10¾.

COFFEE.—Fancy, 24¼; prime, 23¼, good, 22¼; fair, 22; roasted, 27.

SYRUPS.—Fancy drips, 70; white; choice syrups, 65; good, 55; fair, 50; common, 35@40; blackstrap, 25.

MOLASSES.—Choice New Orleans, 80; Porto Rico, 65.

RICE.—Carolina, 9¾@10; Rangoon, 7¾@9; Patna, 8 to 8¾.

HAY.—Is quiet and unchanged; small sales of baled at $25 to $30 according to quality. The receipts continue light and holders generally seem confident of sustaining present prices.

HEMP.—Kentucky rough at $130 per ton.

OIL.—Lard Oil is quoted at 73@75 for No. 1, and 60@62 for No. 2.

POTATOES.—Continue very dull and prices are so irregular that it is almost impossible to give quotations.

PROVISIONS.—Plain shoulders, 6¾, sugar-cured, 9; ribbed sides, 8; short ribbed sides, 8½; clear sides 9; sugar cured hams, 14; mess pork, $14½; dried beef, 18c; lard in tres, 9¾; in kegs, 10¾; in buckets, 11¼. Ham sausage, 10½c.

POULTRY.—Live Chickens may be quoted at 75 to 85 cts per pair, by the coop.

RAGS.—Sales at 3¾@4cts per lb.

SALT.—Quoted at $1,75 per barrel by the car load, and $1,90 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS.—Flax seed is in steady demand at $2, and the offerings continue very light.

TALLOW.—Rendered 7½ to 8 cts.

WILLOWS.—Offerings light; sales in a smal way at 10 cts.

WHISKY.—Highwines in a jobbing way, 91@92.

WOOL.—The wool market remains very quiet with but small offerings mostly of them low and medium grades. The eastern markets the past week show a decline owing to the advices from the London sales and the feeling among the manufacturers and dealers is that Wool must decline considerably in the West before buyers can be induced to make purchases to any extent. Some time ago eastern buyers were willing to purchase fine wool in the country at 60 to 65 cts, whilst the growers universally demanded 75 to 80 cents. Now we cannot hear of any orders being given to the West at over 55 to 60 cents, and in some parts of the West 50 cents is talked of as the highest price they will pay. We do not look for any activity in the fine wools of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and eastern Ohio until harvest is over. Although in some portions of Ohio and Pennsylvania we hear of some purchases being made at 60 cents and a general willingness to sell at this price, but as a general thing but little is expected until the growers are willing to modify their views very considerably. We quote coarse and medium fleece, 60 to 62 cents per pound; fine fleece, 60; tub washed, 60 to 65; unwashed, 37 to 40 cents.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, July 2, 1872.

The refined market opened weak, with some inquiry, which was promptly met by free sales at Monday's ruling prices, closing dull. Sales of July at 22¼@23⅛; August offered 23 without buyers. Crude weak and lower; $3,70@3,72 per bbl at Parker. Oil barrels quiet and unchanged.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with 3 feet 7 inches in the channel. Weather continues oppressively hot; thermometer indicated 100 in the shade at noon at Dunseath's. There will doubtless be a storm within the next twenty four hours.

The Juniata was due last evening, and will no doubt be found in port this morning. As well be seen by card, she is announced for a return trip forthwith. We are authorized by Capt. Brennan to state that he will receipt passengers and freight through to St. Louis.

The towboats Leader and John Hanna arrived, and the Julia No. 2, for Zanesville, departed.

The Exchange is due from Cincinnati to-morrow, and the Mollie Ebert is en route from St. Louis.

—We clip the following from the Dubuque Tribune: Mr. Burlingame, of McGregor, who is in the city, informs us that it is now ascertained that no less than thirty-six men were aboard the steamer D. A. McDonald when she blew up, of whom only twelve are known thus far to have been saved. Several bodies have been found during the past week, three at Clayton and three at other points, making twenty-two persons accounted for. Further examination of the boat shows that she was completely shattered to pieces. All the upper works and the boiler deck were blown away, and the hull, which sunk in from twelve to fourteen feet of water, is split open, and the sides blown out. One of the most remarkable escapes is that of one of the crew, whose name Mr. Burlingame did not give us, who was seen by two persons to have been blown clear over the steamer Allamakee, which lay 200 feet from the wrecked steamer, and landed in the mud some five or six hundred feet from where he started on his aerial voyage. These persons went to him picked him up and cared for him, and he is now, save some bruises upon the head, as lively as ever he was and apparently as sound.

—A St. Louis special to the Cincinnati Commercial says: There has been some talk here for a few days past that the Keokuk and Northern Line Packet companies have consolidated and would work together against the Northwestern Union Packet Company, but the report turns out to be unfounded. The directors of the two companies were in council, but the result of their deliberations is not known. The powerful combinations effected by Commodore W. F. Davidson and his secretary, William Rhodes, are sinking the whole transportation interests of the Northwest, and it is probable some enormous effort will soon be made to check their rapidly increasing power, but as the cheap rates are the bases upon which they act, it seems hard to understand how this can be brought about, as the people will patronize those who work the cheapest.

—The St. Louis Republican of Sunday says: W. J. Kountz has closed contract with the Marine Railway company to adeonize the Carrie V. Kountz by lengthening her fifty feet, putting her through the same process as that of the Mollie Moore. The following dispatch was received here yesterday: New Orleans, June 29, 1872. Capt. W. J. Kountz: Have 500 tons salt, 400 tons iron, 300 tons sugar. Total 1,100 tons. Signed, J. C. Van Hook, Master steamer H. C. Yaeger.

—Five iron ships are in course of construction on the Delaware river, at Chester, Pa. Two for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, 300 and 310 feet long. Another, 235 feet long, for the New York and Galveston trade. Another, 200 feet long, for the coasting trade. A fifth, 185 long, for the East River Ferry Company, to ply between New York and Hunter's Point. Eight hundred men are employed at the construction yard.

—A passenger on the steamer Wade Hampton named Laurent Julien, while going ashore on the 29th of April last, got hurt by a hogshead of sugar. He was laid up for some time, and had to close his store, which caused him loss. He sued the Hampton for $12,000 damages. The court at New Orleans rendered a judgment in his favor for $1,540, actual and consequential damages.

—Thomas Harmon, a veteran boatman, formerly in the Nashville trade, died in St. Louis recently. The deceased was an uncle of Captain Will, and Tom Harmon of Nashville, and was upward of 70 years of age.

—The Evansville Courier states that $30,000 has been subscribed by the merchants of that city for the purpose of starting a Memphis Packet Line.

—Capt. Wiley Simms will name his new boat, now being built at Paducah, Longfellow, in case Longfellow wins the race at Long Branch tomorrow.

—Ed Ryland, an old steamboat clerk, but now traveling for the firm of Finney & Co., of St. Louis, is lying dangerously ill at Rooney, Mississippi.

—The Berlin, which sunk at St. Joseph bridge, is broken in two.

Boy Drowned.

About half past two o'clock yesterday afternoon several boys were bathing in the Monongahela river, near the Soho bridge, when one of them named Wm. McFadden, a boy about twelve years of age took the cramp, and before assistance could reach him was drowned. After half an hour's search the body was found. His parents reside on Second avenue.

Amateur Boat Race.

Something of a sensation has been created in Birmingham by the announcement that two well known grocers and two proprietors of a glass house in Birmingham, have arranged to row a skiff race which will come off at seven o'clock this morning. The course is to be from the Birmingham bridge to the first dam. The stakes are a supper for thirty-six persons. The race has excited a good deal of interest, and doubtless many will doubtless rise an hour earlier than usual to witness it. If the race does not cause so much money to change hands as did the Longfellow-Basset race, there is no doubt that it will result in the destruction of a vast amount of edibles.

The Essentials.

The essential qualification for a garment that will give satisfaction is—aside from the material—in its neat and perfect fitting; in fact, this, perhaps, ought to be put first, as a much inferior piece of goods, if it be made into a stylish, neat fitting garment, will be better appreciated than a more costly fabric illy-made. This essential excellence, neat fitting, is the mark of all the suits which are obtained at the store of Mr. Thomas Scandrett, No. 225 Liberty street; for whether it be a linen coat or a fine broadcloth the same care is exercised. This house, formerly J. Boobyer's, is one of the oldest in the city, and the new proprietor has not allowed its prestige to fail. Any gentleman who desires a suit that in every respect will give satisfaction, and that will not cost an exorbitant price, can get what he wants at No. 225 Liberty street.

Standard Lodge.

At an election at Standard Lodge, No. 76, A. I. O. K. S. B., held Sunday, June 3d, the following were elected:

W. Av., Emanuel De Roy; N——l, Charles Zuggsmith; A——r, N. Levi; E——r, A. Hyams; S——r, H. Goldsmith; A. S. E., A. Bernstein; G——r, T. Tobias. A. H. Fisher, the retiring Av., acts as C——n for next term. Trustees—1 year, E. De Roy; 2 years, A. Hyams; 3 years, A. H. Fisher.

This Lodge is only in existence some six or seven weeks, mention of its installation having been made in our columns at the time, and is in a most prosperous condition.

We are glad that our Jewish friends have been successful in thus organizing, and that already the success of this new Lodge is assured. The members are all prominent among the Israelitish persuasion.

A Handsome Present Fitly Made.

It is not often that we have such pleasure in reporting a presentation as we feel now in mentioning briefly one that took place on Monday of this week. It was without display of any kind, but in this was only the more noticeable. It was from one brother to another—Mr. T. D. Casey to Mr James Casey—both of whom are of the firm of Casey, Fogarty & Co., merchants, of Liberty street. Mr. James Casey, the recipient, is the travelling member of the firm, and as such he has been remarkably successful on behalf of the house. The presentation was not only a recognition of the services of the recipient, but also an expression of brotherly esteem and affection, that is well worthy of note. The gift was a first-class American gold watch, Appleton, Tracey & Co., manufacturers, together with a most beautiful gold chain, all purchased of Mr. C. Terheyden, of this city. The gift was worthily bestowed, and did honor to the giver. We take pleasure in reporting the affair on behalf of our friends, the Messrs. Casey.

Guardians of the Poor—Regular Meeting.

Yesterday afternoon the Guardians of the Poor held a regular meeting.

Superintendent Chess, of the City Farm, reported 208 inmates in the house on June 1st, and 33 admitted during the month; discharged, died, &c., 30; remaining in house July 1st, 121 males, 90 females, a total of 211, showing a net increase for the month of 3 persons.

Dr. Isaiah Ward, physician at the Farm, reported ten cases admitted to hospital during June, fourteen remaining under treatment. The deaths were as follows: John Ruetter, German, aged 55, consumption; E. C. Lafrentz, 58, softening of brain; Clarissa Owens, American, 40, consumption; Nathan Jones, (colored), 85, old age; infant, 2 days old, name unknown, hemorrhage.

Dr. S. N. Benham, of the First District, reported forty-two visits paid, twenty patients attended to and seven office patients during June. Dr. A. A. E. McCandless, of the Second District, reported forty-three visits paid, twenty-eight patients attended to and ten office patients. Adjourned.

Adjournment of the United States District Court.

On Monday the United States District Court, which has been in session at Williamsport, completed its session, and adjourned. The case of the United States against L. F. Seibert, of Luzerne county, which was the last case tried, occupied five days. The case was one for the violation of the provisions of the revenue laws, relating to distillers and wholesale liquor dealers. The jury found a verdict of guilty in manner and form as indicted, and the defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of five thousand dollars, and to undergo four years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

Deputy Marshal Hall brought Seibert and three other prisoners with him this morning, and lodged them in the Penitentiary. John M. White, convicted of personating a revenue officer, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment. William Baun, of Susquehanna county, convicted of robbing the mail, was sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of two years, and Wm. Remley, of Luzerne county, a partner of the notorious "Bob" Altic, who was convicted of passing counterfeit money, was sent to the Penitentiary for seven years.

OUR ITALIAN VISITOR.

His Closing Lecture—The Vatican Council Reviewed—Gavazzi's Advice to Protestants.

The closing public lecture of Father Gavazzi, our distinguished Italian visitor was delivered last night in the Second Presbyterian church, (Dr. Howard's) on Penn street. The attendance was larger than at any other of the meetings held since the distinguished orator has been in our midst.

The Rev. Joseph King, pastor of the Christian Church of Allegheny, opened the meeting with a few introductory remarks and called upon Rev. W. J. Beatty, of Shady Side, to invoke the Divine blessing upon the meeting. At the close of the prayer the Rev. Mr. King again addressed the audience, stating the object of this visit of Father Gavazzi to this country, and calling upon those present to bear the oppressive heat with patience, as it was equally unpleasant to the speaker as to the hearers. Father Gavazzi was then introduced.

The distinguished speaker announced that his subject would be the "Ecumenical Council and the Infallibility of the Pope." He then proceeded to refer to the Vatican Council, about it he should have but a few words to say, and then he substantially spoke as follows: I call it the Vatican Council, but they call it in the Romish Church the Ecumenical or General Council. There were so many excluded from its sessions that I have always regarded it as a family Council, something on the order of Tammany in New York; the appellation which the Romish Church applies is a mockery. To secure beforehand a majority of favorable votes in its deliberations, the Pope appointed a number of sham Bishops, that is Bishops who have no dioceses of their own over which they preside. The Council was never free. There are printed documents they cannot deny or explain away which show this. The speakers were compelled to submit their manuscripts to a committee of Cardinals, and if these gentlemen approved of the sentiments expressed therein they were at liberty to speak them. This was the boasted liberty allowed. Some of the brighter luminaries could not be thus suppressed; they spoke their sentiments in defiance of the Pope, but were afterwards degraded for their obstinacy. I do not admit the right of Councils to define any rule of faith. Councils are simply human machinery, and outside of the Word of God nothing is infallible. The Holy Ghost cannot divide Himself upon an article of faith. He cannot say yes to the extent of one hundred and fifty votes, and no to the extent of one hundred and fifty votes. There must be absolute unanimity before there can be infallibility. To find man's infallibility he must go back, back to the beginning of the world, and then he must look below.

The speaker showed how the Roman Church falsified expressions of Scripture by violently torturing them to mean things which were never intended, and quoted the text "I have prayed to My Father that thou should not fail in faith." Did Peter fail? Yes, he brutally and miserably denied his Saviour. Christ did not mean that he should be infallible, should never err, but that he should fail utterly. Repeated instances appear in the Bible where he erred. Catharine went to Avignon to persuade the Pope to return to Rome. He yielded to her persuasions—that is, a weak, fallible woman strengthened the faith of the infallible Pope. Isn't this ridiculous? There are two doctrines of the Romish Church—"The Supreme Doctor cannot error," and "the Supreme Sheperd cannot err." These are true, my friends; the Supreme Shepherd or teacher cannot err, but Jesus Christ is that Shepherd and Teacher, and even were the Pope His vicar he does not inherit His prerogatives—the servant is not necessarily invested with all the powers of the Master.

Father Gavazzi then spoke of the Pope, who he characterized as a mild, good-natured man, but very ignorant: I was his biographer in Italy, and ought to know something about his education. He was turned away from the University of Padua for incapacity, and if he is infallible it must be the infallibity of the donkey, of the she-donkey, Balaam's ass, who reproved the false prophet in the wilderness. "Feed my lambs," "Feed my sheep," was said in the Bible. Christ did not tell them to feed their lambs and their sheep, but His, and therefore He is the head shepherd after all. The good shepherd will die for his sheep, but has Pius IX. ever offered to die for his sheep? On the approach of the wolf the good shepherd stays with his flock, but the bad shepherd flies away. In 1848 we were the wolves, and on our approach the good shepherd, the infallible Pope, fled away in the disguise of a shepherd's wife. Beautiful! Glorious! (and here the speaker laughed outright, in which he was heartily joined by the whole audience, who were repeatedly convulsed with laughter). When God created this world He created things inferior to Himself, but when the Pope created infallibility he created something far superior to himself, and therefore made himself out far greater than God Himself. What sacrilege! When we heard of the decree in Italy we laughed; we laughed again, and we have been laughing ever since.

After dwelling upon this idea at some length the speaker made a personal appeal to his hearers to help in the work of evangelization in Italy. If the American Protestants expected to hand down this blessed heritage unsullied to their children they must be truthful. The Pope was casting wistful eyes to this country and was sending emissaries hither every day. Pittsburgh was one of the wealthiest cities in the United States, and its rich citizens could surely do something for the advancement of Protestantism in Italy. After he (the speaker) was gone, he hoped his words would remain, and that many family circles would raise one thousand dollars and send the same to establish a station in Italy. This sum would pay a pastor, a school teacher and pay the rent of a room in which the services could be held. In conclusion he warned American Protestants to remember that Italy was the place where their Christianity first came into existence, and as a matter of gratitude called for support for the Free Christian Church of Italy.

The Rev. Joseph King then announced that a collection toward the movement would be taken up, and when the collectors had done their work the benediction was pronounced and the gathering dispersed.

EXONERATED.

The Death of Louisa Schill—The Result of Natural Causes—Mr. Spreyer Vindicated—The Coroner's Inquest.

The city journals which prefer to furnish their readers with sensational items, rather than to lay before them the simple truth, yesterday indulged in the publication of ex-parte statements as to the cause of the death of Louisa Schill, at a Second avenue boarding house, the facts surrounding which death were published yesterday morning in this paper. The GAZETTE requested the public to reserve their judgment until a full investigation had been had, and the wisdom of this advice has been fully proven by the result of the Coroner's inquest. Mr. Spreyer, whose name was connected very unfavorably with the case, is a gentleman whose character has always been above reproach, and it was unfair to him that statements accusing him of being guilty of a heinous crime were published, before he had an opportunity to vindicate himself.

In justice to Mr. Spreyer, we publish the following testimony:

Dr. F. Venn, recalled—Drs. McCann, McCoy, Snively and myself made a post mortem examination of deceased; in my opinion death was caused by abscess of the liver, from which the pus flowed into the abdomen, inflaming the peritoneum; the pus was absorbed into the blood, producing blood poisoning before the rupture of the abscess.

Dr. Joseph McCann, sworn—Am a practicing physician; was present at the post mortem examination; found the bowels very much inflamed, and a considerable quantity of pus in the cavity of the abdomen; there was a considerable abscess on the left lobe of the liver; the abscess had been ruptured, and the result was inflammation of the bowels. There was no evidence whatever justifying the opinion that rape had been committed. The cause of death was inflammation of the bowels, caused by the bursting of the abscess. There were no evidence of violence.

Dr. J. W. McCoy, sworn—Was present at the post mortem; am of opinion that death was caused by peritonitis, produced by rupture of the abscess in the liver; rape would not produce such results.

Dr. W. Snively, sworn—Was present at the post mortem; the cause of death was peritonitis, produced by the rupture of the abscess of the liver; there was no doubt as to the cause of death; there was no evidence of violence; inflammation would be produced in a few hours after the bursting of the abscess; she could not possibly have been saved, no matter what was prescribed for her. Death would ensue, I think, in forty-eight hours after the bursting of the abscess. (The other physicians present corroborate this opnion.)

This closed the testimony, and after a short interval the jury returned the following verdict: That the deceased came to her death from acute peritonitis, superinduced by the breaking of an abscess on the liver.

From this it will be seen that Mr. Spreyer is entirely exonerated from the grave charge so unscrupulously published against him.

Conference of the XXVI. District for Constitutional Delegates.

The Republican conferees of the XXVI. Senatorial district, met at the Monongahela House, Pittsburgh, on Tuesday the 2d inst., to nominate two delegates to represent the district in the Constitutional Convention.

Conferees—Beaver county, Hon. Milton Lawrence, H. E. Moore, J. W. Eakin. Butler county—John M. Thompson, John M. Sullivan, Henry Pillow. Washington county—A. G. Cleaver, J. A. Happer, D. S. Walker.

On motion, Hon. Milton Lawrence, of Beaver, was called to the chair, and John M. Sullivan, of Butler, was appointed secretary.

The following nominations were then made, viz.:

T. R. Hazzard, of Washington county; Gen. John N. Purviance, of Butler county.

Mr. Moore, of Beaver, stated that he was authorized by Henry Hice, Esq., the nominee of Beaver county, to withdraw his name, before balloting, Mr. Hice's business relations being such at the present time, as to prevent him from serving the people, if elected. One of his business partners, Henry Reeves, Esq., is about leaving for Europe, on account of ill health, and another is sick, consequently he could not take part in the campaign, without most serious loss in his business. Of necessity, therefore, he is compelled to decline nomination.

Mr. Moore, on behalf of the conferees of Beaver county, moved an adjournment of the Conference for three weeks, to enable the Republicans of Beaver county to take such action as they might deem expedient in view of the withdrawal of their candidate, Mr. Hice.

The motion was not agreed to; and, on motion, Gen. John N. Purviance, of Butler, and T. R. Hazzard, Esq., of Washington, were unanimously nominated to represent the Twenty-sixth District in the Constitutional Convention.

The nominees were introduced to the Conference and suitably acknowledged the honor conferred upon them.

Whereupon the Conference adjourned.

THE ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS.

Regular Meeting of the Board of School Controllers Last Evening—Reports of Committees—Text Books Adopted.

A regular meeting of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers was held last evening. The following members were present:

Messrs. Ashworth, Barker, Beckert, Borland, Bulford, Blakely, Benney, Burchfield, Berth, Claney, Craig, Chambers, Chadwick, Dunlap, Donaldson, Davis, Eaton, Foerster, Gault, Hobson, Hemphill, Harper, Harris, Hamilton, Jones, Phillips, Cappe, McClinton, Marthens, Miller, Patterson, Parke, Popp, Sprague, Sutton, and Trimble.

In the absence of President King, Mr. John E. Parke presided.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Prof. Eaton.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Claney from the Fifth ward reported the teachers elected for that ward. List confirmed.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Colored Schools reported the following teachers: Principal, S. A. Neale; Governoress, Miss Ella Wilson; Medium, Mrs. F. A. Harris; Primary, Miss Mary M. Ware. Report confirmed.

Mr. Hobson, from the Committee on Finances submitted the following report and resolution:

Your Committee on Finance beg leave respectfully to report that H. F. Eggers, collector of the Eighth ward for 1870, has settled his duplicate for that year and paid to the Receiver the balance due by settlement, which was $102.61. We therefore offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to credit Mr. H. F. Eggers with exonerations to the amount of $182 40

Commissions five per cent 32 51

Total $214 91

The report was received and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Blakeley, from the Committee on Teachers and Salaries, recommended that an extra teacher be allowed to the First and Seventh wards, and two each to Troy Hill and Woodville. Report adopted.

Mr. D. L. Smith of the Committee on Grades and Text Books, reported a list of text books, all of which were the same as used last year, with the exception of Prof. Hotz's First lessons in Physics for the High School. Report adopted with the exception of Algebras, Geometries and Drawing Books.

Mr. Smith read a communication from the Board of Principals of the Allegheny schools requesting the Board of Control to adopt Brooks' Algebra and Geometry, instead of Ray's Algebra and Davies' Geometry. Referred to Committee on Text Books.

The Library Committee made a lengthy report in which they congratulated the board in having come into the possession of 4,000 volumes, at a cost of but $500 for the cases. The Committee had looked through the library and found many valuable books; they had noticed, however, that the library contained many volumes of fiction of the sensational sort. They observed, also, that the cases containing these books were often almost empty, while the books of a more substantial, instructive character remained upon the shelves untouched. This they thought was rather discreditable to the teachers. The committee reported that they had made some additions to the library in seventeen volumes of the Scientific American. The committee recommended that rule eighteen be expunged making the library free. The committee reported the receipts to be $82.70, and expenses $1,167.70. Excess of expenditures, $1,095.80. Report accepted and ordered to be printed in the Annual Report.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

Mr. Marthens, from the Special Committee to whom was referred the matter of having commissioners appointed by the Governor to select books for schools in the State for ten years, reported a resolution recomending the adopting of a uniform series of text books throughout the State. Report adopted.

Several small bills were read by the Secretary and warrants ordered to be drawn for the amounts.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

Mary Jane Manning yesterday made an information before Alderman Taylor against her husband, James R. Manning, charging him with surety of the peace. The deponent alleges that her husband came to the house of Mrs. Mary Ann McShane, where deponent resides, and threatened to take away the infant child of deponent, and calling her vile names. Warrant issued.

Michael Hays charges Morris Finnessy with surety of the peace, in threatening to shoot deponent. Alderman Taylor issued a warrant.

John Connelly makes an information before Alderman Taylor against James Wilson for assault and battery, alleging that the defendant made an attack upon him and threw him upon a stone floor. Warrant issued.

James Gilliland yesterday appeared before Alderman Strain and made an information against Peter Dressler, whom he charges with surety of the peace. He alleges that he was standing upon the Court House steps when the defendant came along and deliberately announced his intention to "blow his head off." Having no desires for such he asks that a warrant be issued for the arrest of Dressler, which was accordingly done. Detective Dressler states that Gilliland, who was recently arrested by him, came up to him and used a very offensive epithet and that he (Dressler) told him if he repeated the insult he would punish him.

George Jones made two informations before Alderman Strain, against a man named Meckie. One charges him with surety of the peace, and the other with keeping a bawdy house. Warrants issued.

Before Alderman O'Donnell Kate Feeney charges Frank and Ann Schremps with keeping a disorderly house on Liberty street, near Twelfth. The parties were arrested and committed for a hearing.

James McCree charges W. H. Gramp with assault and battery. Defendant was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

THE PRESTLEY CASE.

Special Meeting of the Monongahela Presbytery—A Decision Arrived at—Dr. Prestley Admitted—An Appeal Taken.

The principal theme of conversation yesterday in Presbyterian circles was the decision in the case of James Prestley, who recently made application to be reinstated in his church membership. The matter came up at a meeting of the Monongahela Presbytery last week, and yesterday was specially set apart for its consideration. At the appointed hour there was an average attendance of the members of the Presbytery, and visitors—the session being free to all—in the Hebron Presbyterian Church, a short distance beyond Wilkinsburg. Rev. S. B. Reed acted as Moderator, and after the usual devotional exercises and several minor matters of business had been attended to, the special subject before the Presbytery was called up. The petition of Dr. Prestley as published in the GAZETTE was read, after which speeches in support of it were made by the Rev. Messrs. Ormond and Hutchinson, who contended that Dr. Prestley having confessed his errors had done all that human or Divine law required. They were followed by the petitioner, Dr. Prestley, who made a very earnest and affecting address, which created considerable sympathy, and in a large measure helped his cause. He dwelt at some length upon the causes which had led to his excommunication from the church, (our readers are familiar with the history), and expressed his sorrow therefor and his great desire and anxiety to be restored to communion. Revs. Dr. W. J. Reid and Rev. Dr. John G. Brown addressed the Presbytery in opposition to granting the prayer, on the ground that as the excommunicated brother had been convicted and expelled upon specific charges, that his confession should not be—as it was—general in its character, but should be equally specific, to indicate his sincere and hearty repentance. The fact of his divorce from his first wife and marriage to a second was also incidently referred to and the argument urged that the divorce had not been in accordance with the requirements of the church laws, and consequently the second marriage was not legal. These points on both sides were discussed at considerable length, but it was noticeable that there was an absence of that acrimonious spirit, which too often is displayed in such matters. This fact had a marked effect in allaying the excitement among the visitors and all interested in the case.

The discussion closed shortly before three o'clock. Presbytery having been in session three hours, when a vote was taken on a motion to grant the petitioner's prayer and admit him into church fellowship. The result was fourteen in favor and nine against—a result which was hailed with delight by the friends of Dr. Prestley, who were not long in warmly congratulating him.

When the result was announced, the Rev. Mr. Reid gave notice that the case would be appealed to Synod, and filed the preliminary papers, which were signed by himself and Rev. Messrs. S. B. Reed and John G. Brown. Synod will meet next fall, when the case in all probability will be finally settled.

BIRMINGHAM COUNCIL.

An ordinance enlarging the cartways around the market square, by setting back the line of curbstone one foot, was read and finally passed.

A resolution fixing the grade of Eighth street from Manor to Washington streets, as per plan of the regulator, was passed finally.

The report of the weighmaster showed the collections for the month of June amounted to $63.50.

A bill from Messrs Lockhart & Co. for putting up lightning rods, amounting to $612, was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. D. Berg, Borough Collector, reported that $400 had been collected and paid over to the Treasurer since he commenced collecting. The receipt from the Treasurer was given to the Clerk.

The wharfmaster was instructed to bring action against Mr. Hays, administrator for the estate of Mr. John Rebman, deceased, for $148 wharfage due the borough by Mr. Rebman before he died.

THE COLORED VOTERS.

An Important Address.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the colored voters of the City of Pittsburgh, on motion it was resolved, that a committee be appointed to issue an address to the colored voters of the City of Pittsbugh.

G. S. WOODSON, President.

JAS. H. COLEMAN, Sec'y.

ADDRESS TO THE COLORED VOTERS OF THE CITY OF PITTSBURGH.

FELLOW CITIZENS: We are called upon once more to prepare for the contest upon which we are about to enter for freedom and equality; the same old enemy is before us though in disguise, the ancient democratic party is in the field under a new name, new leaders, and new standard bearers. Liberalism in the sense in which the term is used, is antagonism to the underlying principles of Republican equality and true liberty. County, State and National officers are to be chosen, let there be no faltering, no failure on our part, Negley, Graham, Hartranft, Grant, Wilson and all of the county ticket must be elected, and in order to do this we must organize in every ward and precinct in the support of the regular candidates of the Republican party. We must not allow ourselves to be drawn away from the party through which we have received all the benefits of freedom—the question is being daily asked how will the colored voters go; answer at the ballot box, for Grant and the equality of all American citizens. Four millions eight hundred thousand of our race have been released from the thraldom of slavery through the instrumentality of the Republican party. They stand to-day living examples of the honesty and integrity of this party of progress. Through it we have been protected in our rights as citizens and freemen, and should the administration be overthrown our advance must be impeded and our march hindered: we are as yet children in the use of our rights and privileges; four years more will make us men; let us rally to the friend of freedom and thus secure our own advancement and our country's greatest good.

Longfellow won the race at Long Branch yesterday, and there was considerable excitement in sporting circles in the city over the result, but that was nothing to our people in comparison with the fact that at the Boston One Price Clothing Store, 95 Smithfield street, they can obtain cool summer suits, for an outlay which is almost infinitesimal.

LOTS.

Great Inducements Offered!

The owners of this beautiful property have decided, in view of the past great sales, to reduce the price of the Lots, and by so doing to place them within the reach of all. It is useless for us to say that these Lots are the best now offered for sale within the city limits, for it has become an established and well-known fact. This property fronts immediately on the line of the Citizens Passenger Railway, while scarcely 50 yards away runs the A. V. R. R. All the Avenues are 50 feet wide, and many of the Lots contain the Finest Moulding Sand to the depth of 12 and 14 feet. We would recommend every man or woman who can command a little money to buy one or two of the beautiful Lots, and we predict that before three years they will be worth at least double what we are willing to take for them. Call on us, and we will show you all over the grounds.

SILL & SON,

Our Water.

MESSRS EDITORS.—Sir: In observing an article in your issue Friday morning on the water of this city, I beg to assure you, Sir, that your hydrant is no exception, and I now reiterate your statement as to its unfitness for human use, because it contains a very large amount of organic matter. But all the rivers contain this element and truly the Allegheny is no exception. I pass over the oily element and refer to the turbid appearance of the water. This is owing to the solid matter in fine division suspended through the water, the majority of which will settle if allowed to stand; microscopic examination of this shows the whole mass to be made up of fragments of low types of vegetable and animal life, many forms of which I identify and numerous bodies appearing like spores or ova of both animal and vegetable origin with small fragments of sand and particles of dust. The means of obviating any ill effects that might arise from swallowing any of the active spores or ova of animal life are within the reach of almost every one, by boiling the water first, and then allowing it to stand until it settles, and then pour off the clear water. This, however, destroys the pleasure of a glass of water; it is not always easy to bring it down to the temperature of a cool draught, and it is deprived by boiling not only of the living organisms in it, but at the same time, of its own life; for the air which is held for solution in the water, and to which it owes its sparkle and brilliancy, is driven out by the process of heating. Still, a few minutes' boiling will destroy the seeds, so to speak, of the numerous entozoa which find their way into the human body, probably in the water.

It would be a simple matter to erect a filter bed and settling tank, from whence our supply of water might be taken, which would obviate the supply of organic remains, mixed with living animals and vegetables too numerous to mention.

Now, although the quantity of living spores, &c., may be got rid of by boiling or filtering at home, and how many a person is there who gets up at night in the dark goes to get a glass of water, and prefers to obtain it "fresh from the tap," instead of drinking what has been standing hours in his sleeping apartment, absorbing the gapes given off by the occupants asleep, and in this cup he drinks the germs of future parasitic disease. We ought not to be exposed to this chance of suffering. Our provident city fathers and of the city purse, derived from water taxes, should find a remedy.

COUNTY REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Meeting Yesterday.

A regular meeting of the County Republican Executive Committee was held yesterday afternoon at the Republican Headquarters, Dr. A. H. Gross in the chair.

M. W. Beltzhoover, Esq., having sent in a letter declining the chairmanship of the Committee on Finance, for the reason that he expected to be absent from the city during most of the summer, President Gross filled the vacancy thus created by appointing Jacob Reese, Esq., which appointment was unanimously approved by the committee.

Reports from committees being in order, Dr. Gilmore, from the Committee on Place of Meeting and Wigwam, reported that the Lincoln Club Rooms had been secured for headquarters, and that after due consideration of the subject; together with the difficulty of procuring an eligible and appropriate site, as well as the cost of the building, the matter was reported upon adversely, which report was accepted and approved.

The Committee on Printing, through its chairman, S. Schoyer, Esq., made a report with resolutions attached, the committee being thus given the entire control of the advertising and printing during the campaign, thereby avoiding any clashing of authority.

Maj. Russell Errett, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, being present, gave an encouraging account of the political lookout in the eastern portion of the State, where he had been sojourning for the past two weeks. Major E. also stated that he was pleased to announce that it was the intention of Hon. Selencius Garfielde of Washington Territory, who was reported to be the best orator in the United States, to visit the western part of this State some time during the latter part of July, and that he had kindly consented to address the people in and about Pittsburgh on the political situation. Ample arrangements will be made by the committee for giving our people an opportunity of hearing this gifted and eloquent champion of Republican principles, of which due notice will hereafter be given.

After the transaction of some further business of no public importance, the committee adjourned to meet on Tuesday, the 16th inst.

Don't delay a day longer but consult your health and comfort by purchasing a summer suit at the Boston One Price Clothing Store, No. 95 Smithfield street.
